'NO REAL OBJECTIONS'--ADLAI

—HOUSE TAKES SLAP AT CASTRO—

Ike Given Authority To Cut Cuban Sugar

Washington (AP)—The House, heeding administration pleas for fast action, Thursday night voted the President authority to slash Cuba's sugar quotas.

The action sent to the Senate a bill extending the sugar act for one year—to Dec. 31, 1961.

The House vote followed angry denunciation of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro—including a demand by one member that if necessary the United States occupy the Caribbean Island.

Want Retaliation

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) also called for immediate retaliation for Cuban seizures of American holdings.

"We should impose immediate strong sanctions on Castro," Rivers shouted.

The Eisenhower administration asked authority to establish the Cuban sugar quota for the balance of 1960 and for 1961 at such levels as the President finds to be in the national interest.

At present, the United States is buying about 3½ million tons of sugar a year from Cuba, one of the world's major producers. This is more than half the Cuban crop.

To protect domestic producers, this country is paying Cuba a premium of about two cents above the world market price.

This U.S. subsidy is worth about 150 million dollars yearly to Cuba.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va) complained bitterly that Russia is paying less for Cuban sugar than this country. He urged that this be corrected, declaring:

"I for one am not willing to pay more than the Russians are paying."

Rep. Charles B. Hoeven (R-Iowa) said unless Congress completes action on the bill before recessing this weekend, it "will be meaningless."

Failure to act, he asserted, could open the way for Castro to flood United States markets with 875,000 tons of sugar within weeks.

Demos Claim Two Victories

...POLITICAL PACE MOUNTS

By The Associated Press

Democrats could claim two victories Thursday, one in North Dakota's Senate race and the other in a 63-26 Senate vote to recess Congress during the national political conventions. (See page 2)

Otherwise, the political scene was marked by:

—a statement by Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, in criticizing the Eisenhower administration, is "not speaking for the Republican party or any very large segment of it."

—a denial by Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler that he has rigged the Democratic presidential nominating convention for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Ammo For Demos

Morton, in saying Rockefeller's criticism is not truly Republican, said it unfortunately gave ammunition to the Democrats.

But, he said, the governor's attacks may well have served to solidify the party. Rockefeller declined to comment.

Democrat Butler, in denying reports of rigging the convention, labeled them for a Los Angeles news conference as "nasty, mean, vicious rumors."

Butler also disclosed he had sent former President Harry S. Truman a message saying he hoped Truman would reconsider his decision against attending the party convention.

Dislike For Butler

Truman has shown dislike for Butler and one of the guesses about why he decided to stay away from Los Angeles was that perhaps he felt Butler was favoring Kennedy.

Truman has backed Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri; he has promised to give his reasons for not attending the convention when he holds a news conference at Independence, Mo., Saturday.

In still another disclosure, Butler said he had agreed to provide convention headquarters space to a group backing Adlai E. Stevenson for the presidential nomination.

$40 Billion Defense Bill Sent To Ike

Washington (AP) — Congress sent a $39,996,608,000 defense money bill to President Eisenhower Thursday night. The total is $661,608,000 more than the President asked.

The measure, a compromise of earlier House and Senate versions, passed the House by voice vote after a flurry of opposition to the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile program.

Then the Senate sent it on to the White House by roll-call vote.

The bill, representing approximately half of the federal budget, carries money to run the defense establishment in the fiscal year which starts Friday.

Despite the additions made by congress, Sens. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), a presidential aspirant, and Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) bitterly attacked the bill as inadequate.

Symington said the amount represents only 7.8% of the nation's gross annual income and said this is the smallest percentage in any year since just before the Korean war.

Thousands See British Captain Plunge To Death

New York (AP) — A British Royal Marine captain, taking part in a military tournament and tattoo at Madison Square Garden, plunged 85 feet to his death Thursday night from the roof to the floor.

An estimated 10,000 spectators looked on as Capt. Antony Laurence Easterbrook, 31, fell as he was about to begin a "death slide." The audience was not immediately aware that they had seen an accident. The show went on.

Easterbrook, in serious condition, was rushed to St. Clare Hospital, where he died later.

Rainfall Widespread; Hail Hits Broken Bow

Thunderstorms continued over Nebraska Thursday, and were predicted to continue in the western and northern portions of the state.

Thunderstorms were reported at Broken Bow Thursday, dropping .50 inches of rain in that area. Hail up to one inch in diameter fell during the storm, but no crop damage was reported during the brief storm.

Rains were heavy in some parts of the state with Brownville reporting 1.80 inches of rain. Falls City recorded 1.40 inches. Other towns reporting more than one inch of rain after Thursday's showers include Ashland, Auburn, Humboldt, and Louisville.

The weather bureau issued a severe weather warning for Thursday night with possible thunderstorms, tornados, hail and damaging winds in Gage, Johnson, Pawnee, Nemaha, and Richardson Counties in extreme southeastern Nebraska.

Cloudiness will prevail in the eastern part of the state Friday, with widely scattered thunderstorms in the afternoon and evening predicted for the extreme eastern portions of the state.

Widely scattered thunderstorms are expected in the western and northern portions of the state by Friday night. Saturday will bring cloudiness, but warmer weather to the eastern part of the state. High temperatures Friday are expected to range from the upper 70's to 90 in some areas.

The state's high temperature Thursday was 77, recorded at Chadron, where the state low of 57 was also reported.

At the Clay Langer farm 3 miles north of Superior, lightning set fire to a haystack.

A small twister striking on the Leslie Erickson farm north and east of Superior uprooted 5 cottonwood trees and smashed windows in the farm home. In the same area, winds blew down utility poles on the Fritz Meyer farm.

DRAFT PATH OPENS WIDE

Stevenson Willing To Have His Name Placed In Nomination

Washington (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said Thursday night he has no real objections to having his name placed in nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

Emerging from a cocktail party held to raise funds for the re-election campaign of Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), Stevenson was asked if he would have any objection to seeing his name placed before the convention which convenes in Los Angeles July 11.

Stevenson

"On the basis of my experience so far," Stevenson replied, "I don't think it would make any difference."

Pressed by newsmen to state definitely whether he has any objections, he added, "No, I don't really."

Stevenson, who was the Democrats' unsuccessful presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, has said he is not a candidate for the nomination again this year, but he also has said he would not evade a draft.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), the current leader in unofficial tabulations of first ballot delegate votes, also attended the Humphrey party.

Kennedy Optimistic

Kennedy repeated he expects to receive more than 600 votes on an early ballot at the convention. To win nomination, a candidate must get 671 votes.

Asked to define "early ballot," Kennedy said he could not say specifically whether it would be the first, second, third or fourth.

An Associated Press tabulation showed Kennedy with 534 first ballot delegate votes at this time, on the basis of primary results, state conventions and AP polls of delegates.

Stevenson is credited with 34.

Stevenson was asked about a prediction by Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla) that the former Illinois governor would have 77 votes on the first convention ballot.

"I'm Flattered"

"That sounds optimistic," Stevenson said. "I'm flattered. I'm just an innocent bystander."

When he arrived for the party Stevenson commented to reporters: "I don't think you'll ever hear any more about my candidacy than you've already heard."

"I'm here to beat the tambourine for Hubert Humphrey," he added.

The cocktail party for Humphrey was unique in that all the leading candidates for the Democratic nomination attended to help raise money for the Minnesotan's senatorial campaign. Until Kennedy defeated him in the Wset Virginia primary, Humphrey was in the race for the top spot on the party's 1960 ticket.

Among those attending were Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo). They arrived after Humphrey, Kennedy and Stevenson had left.

—HOUSE ACTS—

$1.15 Hour Wage Bill To Senate

Washington (AP) —The House Thursday passed a scaled-down minimum wage increase backed by Republicans and southern Democrats.

The roll call vote sending the bill to the Senate was 341-72.

The coalition substituted its own bill for a broader one backed by the Democratic leadership. It cut the proposed wage floor from $1.25 an hour to $1.15, and eliminated overtime for newly covered workers.

The bill would raise the present $1-an-hour minimum to $1.15 and extend coverage to an estimated 1,400,000 employes of retail chain organizations operating in two or more states.

Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif author of the broader bill, said loopholes in the substitute would cut the actual new coverage well below the estimated figure.

About 24 million workers prsently are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. An estimated 2,400,000 of them are receiving less than $1.15 an hour at present and thus would receive pay raises under the House bill. The measure would take effect next Jan 1.

Nebraska Vote On Wage Bill

Washington (AP) — Nebraska's 4 members of the House split their votes Thursday as the $1.15 per hour minimum wage bill was passed by that body. The vote was 341 to 72.

Reps. Glenn Cunningham of Omaha and Phil Weaver of Falls City, Republicans, voted for the bill. Reps. Lawrence Brock, Wakefield, and Don McGinley, Ogallala, voted against the bill.

Brooks OKs Finigan's Appointment

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks Thursday night announced his approval of the appointment of Edwin J. Finigan of Lincoln as secretary of the State Highway Advisory Commission effective Friday.

Finigan

The Commission had recommended Finigan's appointment following its meeting in Lincoln Monday, and the governor approved it, as required by law, immediately upon his return from the National Governors Conference at Clacier Park, Mont.

Finigan, 38, is a native of Lincoln and a brother of Pearle F. Finigan, director of the State Department of Agriculture.

Nu Grad

The new secretary is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, 1942, and a graduate also of the Harvard Business School in 1943. One of his minors at Harvard was in highway transportation.

Finigan has operated family farms in the Lincoln area for the past several years.

His salary as secretary to the Commission is $6,000 a year.

The post has been vacant since the death of Mr. Owen J. Boyles in August, 1959. Mr. Boyles had served as secretary since January 1, 1956.

Bob And Myrtle Really Have The Town Talking

By Gene Budig

Eagle — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips have the town a-talkin'.

In fact, they've been a-keepin' jaws moving around these parts for nearly 20 years now.

You see, Bob and Myrtle, as they're commonly known, service and manage the Eagle telephone outlet (the Capitol Telephone Company of Hickman).

The operation functions basically like this—Bob keeps the lines up, while Myrtle keeps the calls going through.

Together, they form a tip-top telephone company.

But, their days of telephoning at Eagle are numbered.

Come this October, the switchboard—located in the Phillips home—will be junked in favor of the modern dial system.

The Eagle toll connection will go through Lincoln.

Present plans call for the erection of a new building at the north end of town. It will be an "unattended office" with branch officials dropping in from time to time.

In the phone business 30 of his 62 years, Bob says he's not worried about the future.

"Right now I don't have the slightest idea what I'll do, but I'm hoping to stay in the telephone service field somewhere," he informed.

Bob went on to say that two of his 3 daughters are long distance operators in Denver. "The girls have been urging Mom and me to come out there for employment, but Denver's a little too big."

Like her husband, Mrs. Phillips has hopes of remaining in the "number, please?" business.

"Without a switchboard, I'd be lost," she said. She, too, has been in the phone game for more than 30 years.

POLICE MAIL HOPPING TYPE

Police officers in Lincoln never know quite what to expect in their mail.

As the evening shift was winding up its duties paperwork-wise, one patrolman opened up a round package with ice-cream labels on it.

"I thought somebody mailed me a snake," he joked.

It wasn't a slimy serpent, though, so he placed the suspicious carton on a desk.

Another patrolman went to help himself to some free ice-cream, lifted the lid and jumped back "a little bit startled," as he put it.

For what there be in the carton but a little toad—jumping type.

Burdick Apparent N.D. Winner

OFFICIAL COUNT IS AWAITED

Fargo, N.D. (AP) — Freshman Congressman Quentin Burdick, a Democratic trail blazer in farm belt North Dakota, Thursday apparently won the special North Dakota Senate race in a dramatic finish.

Returns from all but 3 of the historically Republican state's 2,313 precincts showed this unofficial tally in Burdick's race with GOP Gov. John Davis:

Burdick—104,375.
Davis—103,422.

But Davis refused to make any concession, and the tightness of Burdick's margin — less than 1,000 votes — indicated no final verdict could be made until the state canvassing board runs an official count. This must be within 20 days.

Late reporting returns from the farm and ranch country, wellspring of Burdick's strength, buoyed the 52-year-old Fargo lawyer as the counting went down to the final precincts.

The remaining 3 precincts are in rural McKenzie County in the West River area and the auditor said they should arrive by mail Friday.

It was a spectacularly close race in which Davis rolled into a 8,000 vote lead in the early city tabulation and then lost it bit by bit in the face of Burdick's stubborn strength in the country. Burdick caught up late Wednesday, nearly 24 hours after the voting ended, and held on once he got in front.

Strategists in both parties agreed in advance that the North Dakota race might be a portent of Midwestern political sentiment in this presidential election year.

First Demo To House

Burdick, a tall, muscular figure who carried the legacy of a famous North Dakota political name, only two years ago became the first Democrat elected to the House from North Dakota.

The election was held to fill the remaining 4½ years of the late Sen. William Langer's term.

Burdick's apparent victory was achieved in spite of a powerful GOP national effort to help his opponent, the 46-year-old war hero governor.

Two of the party's most glamorous names, Vice President Richard Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, campaigned for two days for Davis.

PRACTICALLY DEMOLISHED . . . that's how police described this car after a two-vehicle crash Thursday in residential Lincoln. (Star Photo)

3 Injured In 27th-South 2-Car Crash

Three persons were injured Thursday evening in a traffic-snarling two-car smash-up at 27th and South.

Reported in fairly good condition early Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital were Mrs. Imogene L. Propp, 16, of Culbertson, and Mrs. Barbara Green, 26, of 1424 No. 41st.

Mrs. Propp was 8 months pregnant and a hospital official said she was not in immediate danger of losing the baby. She suffered a cut kneecap and possible broken ribs, police said.

Also suffering from possible fractured ribs and face lacerations was Mrs. Green, police said.

Her husband, Loren Green, 31, was driving, police said. He was treated for a blow on his head and released.

Mrs. Propp's brother, William E. Weber, 20, of 1748 F, was driving the second car which had more than $500 damage, police said.

The accident backed up homebound late Thursday shoppers for several blocks in 4 directions, police added.

Rites Today For Boy, 5, Electrocuted

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield for James Walek, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karel Walek of 7600 Starr.

James was electrocuted Wednesday when he touched two REA wires while climbing on a barn at the home of his grandparents near Wakefield.

Graveside services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Lincoln Memorial Park.

Survivors includes his parents; a brother, Charles; a sister, Susan, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barleman of Wakefield.

LUCKY FOR LINCOLN, 'WEAK LINK' OF STORM HIT HERE

Although thunderstorms hit the Lincoln area Wednesday night, this vicinity was bypassed by heavier storming due to a "chance of nature" according to R. E. Meyers of the U.S. Weather Bureau in Lincoln.

According to Meyers, thunderstorms frequently group together in a line, which is actually a number of separate storms close together.

This line then moves across a specific area, and storms occur when this line passes.

Weak Link

Frequently, one of the storms in the mythical line is weaker than the rest. Consequently, the area hit by this break in the chain of storms receives less severe weather.

According to Meyers the storm which hit Lincoln Wednesday night was the weak link in a chain of severe storms which extended into parts of Kansas and Iowa and crossed southeast Nebraska.

This same line of storms the group that brought damaging hail to Kearney and North Platte Wednesday afternoon.

Lincoln Missed

The chain of storms was strong from Kansas to south of Crete where they weakened but then from Ashland into Iowa they were strong again.

The part of the chain which extended from the edge of Ashland, covering Lincoln, was the weak link; the chance of nature, according to Meyers.

Thus Lincoln, in a protective pocket, received less severe weather than the other areas in the line of the storm's path.

Tax Extension Measure Signed; Ike Beats Deadline

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower Thursday signed a bill to continue for another year wartime corporation taxes and excise levies on cigarets, beer, wine, new cars and local telephone calls.

The President's action prevented the taxes from lapsing at midnight. The measure, which will net the government about $4 billion a year, passed Congress in almost the identical form Eisenhower had requested.

Congress heeded the President's plea for a one-year postponement of all July 1 tax reductions scheduled under existing law, despite pressure for election-year tax relief.

The new law continues the 52% tax on corporate earnings. The tax had been scheduled to drop to 47 per cent.

The measure also continues excise taxes on auto parts and travel fares.

Stephen Woods, 12, Hurt May 31, Home After A Month In Hospital

By Roger Wait

"It was a long month," and now that Stephen is home from the hospital, "it seems wonderful."

That's how Mrs. Richard Woods of 4519 St. Paul Ave. summed up her family's joy when her 12-year-old son was released Thursday from Bryan Memorial Hospital.

"He's glad, too," Shephen's mother said.

Hurt May 31

The boy was injured May 31 in a car-bicycle collision at Somerset Ave. and Sherwood Dr., police said. He was knocked unconscious by the impact, it was reported.

By mid-June, a hospital official noted, Stephen was showing signs of reacting to stimuli, although he hadn't regained full consciousness.

Last weekend, the attendant related, the boy was forming words in a whisper, sitting outside in the sun in a wheelchair and even playing a little.

Still Weak

Now, his mother said, Stephen nods his head in answers to questions but is still weak from prolonged hospitalization. He faces a long recuperation, she added.

Stephen's two sisters, Barbara, 17, and 8-year-old Christine, were "real anxious" to see their brother back home, Mrs. Woods said, and now they help him anyway possible.

The boy's brother, Mike, 15, is working on a farm near Norfolk, but he'll come to see Stephen as soon as he can, the mother added.

Mr. Woods drives a contract mail truck between Lincoln and Norfolk.

Police said driver of the car in the May 31 mishap was LaVonne A. Blumer, 46, of 2904 No. 48th.

'Bike Laws May Need To Be Revised'

... City Safety Director

City Safety Director Emmett Junge said Thursday that Lincoln's bicycle ordinance may need to be reviewed for possible improvements.

But, the director added that he has not discussed this with police department officials.

Junge's comments came in the wake of 5 bicycle accidents within 3 days, one of which was fatal to a 7-year-old boy.

Considerations

He suggested possible considerations might be a minimum age for bicycle riders and a prohibition against bicycles on arterial streets.

In some residential areas, there are no sidewalks on which younger children can ride.

Junge noted that Council policy now requires sidewalks on both sides of the streets in new residential subdivisions. Also, he said, the city is ordering sidewalks constructed along streets and areas where safety situations arise.

Kids Hurt In Bike Mishaps Released From St. Elizabeth

Two Lincoln children injured in bicycle-motor vehicle accidents have been released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Ten-year-old Michael Wayne Wilson of 1436 Rose was hurt Monday at 13th and A when his bicycle was in collision with a pickup truck.

Jeanne Strauss, 7, of 4711 Cleveland Ave., was injured June 23 in a car-bike crash at 47th and Greenwood.

McDonald Fearful Of Recession

Pittsburgh (AP) — David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, Thursday called for congressional action on an 8-point program to bolster the nation's economy.

In telegrams to Senate and House majority and minority leaders, McDonald declared that unemployment is increasing. Copies of the telegram were sent to President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and all of the 3,000 local unions of the USW.

McDonald said that for many steelworkers "the recession is already a grim reality," adding:

"The level of unemployment among members of the USW by the end of the week will be about 130,000 unemployed and 350,000 reduced to a short work week . . ."

Navy Doctors Were Wrong; Triplets Born

Memphis, Tenn., (UPI)—Navy doctors, who aren't experts in such things anyway, were proved wrong Thursday.

The quadruplets they predicted for the wife of a Navy chief petty officier turned out to be triplets. Three, not four.

"What was thought to be a fourth baby's skull must have been an overlapping of foetal bones," sand Navy Hospital commandant, Capt. Fitz Weddell.

The youngsters, weighing between 3 pounds 4 ounces and 3 pounds 9 ounces, were born to Mrs. Minnie Box, 38, a grandmother and wife of Chief Petty Officer Thomas A. Box. They were born more than a month prematurely and were placed in isolettes. All were "doing well."

Louis G. Lumpp Hurt In Fall From Ladder

Six stitches repaired a deep laceration over Louis G. Lumpp's right eye Thursday, police said.

Lumpp, 67, of 6001 Leighton Ave., fell off an extension ladder while painting his house, police said. He was treated at a doctor's office.

Atlas Site 'Hardening' Funds KO'd

Washington (AP) — House-Senate conferees Thursday knocked out funds to harden Atlas missile sites at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb.

The Senate had put $1,872,000 into the military construction appropriation bill for the year starting Friday. It was not in the House bill.

A $1,954,000 item for expansion of Strategic Air Command headquarters facilities at Offutt remains in the money bill.

SAC officials had requested the additional funds so the 3 Atlas sites surrounding the base could be hardened to withstand pressure of 25 pounds per square inch in the event of attack.

Each of the sites will house 3 Atlas missiles.

The conferees also agreed on $173,000 for Army Reserve centers at Columbus and Norfolk and on $120,000 for a National Guard armory at Crete and $165,000 for a Guard armory at Beatrice.

Funds for the centers and armories have been voted by the Senate but not by the House.

Reersoe Islanders Show They're Not Easy Push-Overs

Copenhagen, Denmark (AP) — The 500 or so people of the tiny Danish island of Reersoe are traditionally stubborn.

Now they are dead set against a government plan to build a big radio station on their island. To demonstrate, they locked up two government construction engineers.

The islanders said they will stay locked up until they tell their superiors it is not a good idea to build the station.

Sheriff Mandal Christensen, confirming that the engineers were held, explained, "Back in the early 16th Century King Christian III gave the Reersoe islanders a letter of liberty. The letter was countersigned by kings for 200 years . . . we feel that the government cannot force this radio station upon us without at least consulting us."

Chance Of Catching Up 'Unlikely'

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln's construction pace of $7,027,334 for the first-half of 1960 is still lagging behind last year's comparable $8,938,828.

June activity totaled $1,692,520, compared with $2,419,633 for June, 1959.

City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees anticipates some quickening in the pace during the next 6 months, but little likelihood of reaching the $18,785,052 second all-time high set in 1959.

June residential starts included 99 single-family homes, 3 duplexes and one sixplex for a total of 111 living units.

This brought the 6-month total to 417 living units compared with 547 for the same date a year ago.

Vorhees said 500 more living units may still be built this year.

June residential construction totals were $1,120,851 for new homes, $60,488 for duplexes, and $46,964 for a sixplex.

Non-Residential

Major non-residential construction included a $175,000 addition to the Back To The Bible Broadcast building, 12th and M; Alpha Phi Sorority House addition, 1531 S, $96,800; and Meadow Lane swimming pool and bathhouse, 1240 Lancaster La., $30,000.

Vorhees said starts on several million dollar plus projects, that are in this year's construction picture, could bring the 1960 total to within 10% of 1959.

These projects are The Crossroads, a new hotel with the National Bank of Commerce drive-in bank; expansion of Bryan Memorial Hospital; Sheldon Memorial Art Galleries, and a senior citizens home.

Abandoned Baby's Mother Is Sought

By Del Harding

Police are searching for the mother of a new-born baby found sleeping peacefully, thumb in mouth, in a cardboard box at a downtown parking lot Thursday morning.

Det. Capt. E. R. Henninger said the police switchboard operator, Ruth Hansen, received a call at 10:26 a.m. from a woman who said she had seen a baby lying in a box in an alley between 12th and 13th but did not further describe the location.

The caller, whom police believe was the child's mother, then hung up before more information could be obtained.

Det. Al Delaney and Policewoman Colleen Fussell searched the downtown area and about 10:50 a.m. they spotted the cardboard box lying at the northeast side of the Reinvesco Parking Lot at 1200 P.

Delaney said the baby was asleep and had its thumb in its mouth.

The child, a white girl, was rushed to the hospital where doctors said it was "getting along fine." They said the baby was born within the last 24 hours and weighed 7 pounds 14 ounces.

The box in which the child was found was of the type used in grocery stores and the baby was wrapped in a piece of bed sheet and lying on a foam rubber pillow.

The only possible clue to the mother's identity was that a slender woman wearing dark horn-rimmed glasses was seen walking down the alley back of the parking lot carrying a box about 9:30 am. No estimate was given of the woman's age.

Police Chief Joe Carroll asks anyone who might have information concerning the possible identity of the mother to telephone the Police Dept.

A search of downtown apartment and rooming houses failed to turn up any clues as to the mother.

Find Body Of Second Victim Boat Mishap

Yankton, S. D. (AP)—The body of David Buchanan Jr., 33, Osmond, Neb., was found along the South Dakota shore of Lewis and Clark Lake Thursday.

Buchanan was the second victim of a boating accident on the Missouri River reservoir last weekend.

The body of Elmer Johannsen, 46, of Osmond was found Sunday.

Buchanan's body was found less than a mile from the point where the two men's boat was discovered.

Twenty-two boats took part in an intensive search which began Thursday morning.

Shapely Showgirl Marries Vocalist

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — Joy Blaine, 23, Miss Nevada in last year's Miss Universe contest, and singer Frank Howland were married between shows at the Tropicana Hotel.

The shapely showgirl, one of the few American members of the French Folies Bergere troupe, had her wedding night interrupted by the midnight show at the strip hotel.

Her husband, too, had to sing with a combo at another hotel.

Lincoln Grocery Sued For $30,000 Damages

Clara Vagts of Milford filed a $30,000 damage suit Thursday in Lancaster District Court against the Berry Grocery and Food Lockers of 201 So. 9th.

She alleges she was injured June 7, 1958, when she slipped on a frosty floor while attempting to remove food from the locker which she rented at the store.

Inspections Of Atlas Sites Being Made By Helicopter

Western Contracting Corporation is using a helicopter to speed work on Atlas missile site construction in the Lincoln area.

The new whirlybird flies supervisory personnel from its Lincoln project office at 507 So. 7th to the 12 scattered project sites.

Mason Travis, Lincoln manager for the Sioux City, Ia., firm, said the 'copter is presently based at Union Airport, but a landing spot closer to the office is being sought.

Emergencies

In addition to transporting supervisory personnel quickly to the various sites, the helicopter is also available for emergency situations.

Billy D. Keller of 3840 St. Paul, the corporation's pilot, is a veteran flier with 4,700 hours in helicopters and 2,500 in airplanes.

The 3-place Bell helicopter is radio-equipped and has night-flying gear. It can fly from almost zero speed to more than 100 miles per hour, and can land most anywhere.

Burney Spends 'A Quiet Week' At The Mansion

Lieutenant Governor Dwight Burney ended his sojourn as Nebraska's chief executive Thursday evening upon Gov. Ralph Brooks' return to the state.

Burney took over the post just one week ago — the longest period he has served at one time since becoming lieutenant governor in 1957.

He noted that it was a "quiet week" and that he "didn't have much to do except sign some papers."

He said that he and Mrs. Burney had enjoyed very much their stay at the Governor's Mansion where they have resided the past week.

Asked if he thought the Mansion served well its purpose as a residence for the governor, Burney replied, "It couldn't be better."

Juvenile Court Petition Total Stands At 1,743

The official tally of signatures on petitions seeking a separate juvenile court in Lancaster County stood at 1,743 Thursday. Needed to put the proposal on the November ballot are 2,058.

The Nebraska secretary of state's office, which affirmed the signatures, said 478 were found to be invalid and were not counted.

The deadline for the petitions is July 7. They are being circulated under a law which allows Douglas and Lancaster Counties to set up separate juvenile courts if the voters so desire.

Plymouth—KING OF THE ROAD—Plymouth whipped all comers in its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Not once. Not twice. But four years in a row. This baby is put together solid, mister. No shake. No rattle. Dura-Quiet Unibody does the trick. Solid for '60. It rides like a good dream. It looks great. Get with the winner. Get with one whale of an automobile. Get Plymouth today!

Follow these simple instructions: (1) You and friend wife go see your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. (2) Ask the man, "What two cars can I get for $94.26 a month?" He will answer proudly, "Plymouth and Valiant." This figures. (3) Craftily ask him how much less you can get them for. (4) Grin, at his money-saving answer. (5) Drive home side by side. You in yours, she in hers. Bank account? Barely disturbed.

Valiant—KING OF THE COMPACTS—Twice Valiant tangled with Falcon and Corvair. Twice Valiant left 'em for the sweepers. Once in the dust of a Florida road test. Again in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Valiant beat the carburetors off them both. Get behind a Valiant wheel. You'll get it all . . . room, ride, economy, award-winning good looks. Get the King. Get Valiant!

Fast-Changing Politics

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are few things in this world which can change as fast as politics and the last several days have been good examples of this. The biggest news has come from North Dakota where all the power and the glory of the Republican party failed to turn the tide of voters in favor of Gov. John E. Davis in his bid for a Senate seat against Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick.

Strength Show Fizzled

The Republicans moved Vice President Richard Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller both into North Dakota to lower the boom on Burdick and convince the nation that the farm belt was not up in arms against the GOP. Burdick, of course, campaigned too but this contest was obviously to be a show of strength on the part of the Republicans and Nixon in particular. It is foolish to attempt to conclude from this one small state that the Republicans are beaten in November. Nor can it be concluded that any other Republican would get more votes on the national ticket than might Nixon.

But the vote is as strong a sign as there might be prior to the fall showdown. Nixon made a major farm address in North Dakota but it evidently fell short of the mark. His remarks unearthed no new thinking but merely coined the kind of expressions which served President Eisenhower so well in the past. He spoke of the farmers' plight and their right to an equal share in the nation's prosperity but he spelled nothing out.

If North Dakota is a true sampling of what there is to come, the Republicans could be in for as disappointing an election in 1960 as they experienced in 1958 when the halls of Congress were filled with Democrats in spite of a Republican in the White House. It was 1958 that Nebraska Democrats gained control of the governor's office and jolted the state with election of two representatives to the House.

Democratic ranks in Nebraska are split wide open this year but this will make no difference if the rank and file voters are still looking for an answer they feel has not been provided them in the past eight years. Nebraska's farmers are reported to be in an unhappy frame of mind politically and the state as a whole has little by way of real accomplishment to boast about. It will be a tough job to pin the lack of state progress on Democrats who have held only three major state offices for just two years.

The Democrats will be calling for greater numbers and more time to prove that they can produce for the benefit and welfare of all segments of our economy. The Nebraska primary showed no signs of the discontent that could lead to GOP disaster in the fall but a primary is a hard place to find a standard of measurement. If the Republicans want to look on the bright side, they can point to the overwhelming victory of John Cooper in his nomination as a candidate for governor.

Certainly, people looking for any drastic changes would not be likely to rush to the support of Cooper. Thus, the Cooper results could be interpreted as an indication that the voters simply want moderation in the affairs of government and a reasonably efficient operation. This could be the situation but it represents a GOP gamble in the face of odds which are not too good.

If Republicans rely on the conservative approach to things, they could be in big trouble in Nebraska as well as the entire nation when November rolls around. The North Dakota results show that Republican Davis polled more votes in those areas where Rockefeller campaigned for him than in the areas where Nixon attempted to swing things. Rockefeller represents the opposite end of traditional Republican conservatism.

Rockefeller, too, was a big factor in the National Governors' Conference endorsement of a medical aid plan for the elderly tied in with social security. And then, there is the still mysterious action of former President Harry Truman who announced he is not going to attend the Democratic national convention. Truman has promised to expand on his reasons for this but it is currently being interpreted as a realization on his part that Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri has no chance for the Democratic nomination. This, if true, would be another sign that the voters are leaning toward the more liberal side of things as represented by Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Trend Toward Liberalism

What might be the cause of current voter feeling is anybody's guess but both political parties will be gambling on it in November. The risk seems to be the greater for the Republicans because of their natural minority position and the indications that they are running against popular sentiment. If this is true, the Republican party will probably never be the same again after 1960.

Combination Jail

One of the little talked about benefits of the proposed county convalescent care hospital was highlighted in a recommendation of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce for a city-county study of a new combination jail. When the hospital unit is constructed, it will contain space for the City-County Health Department, now housed in quarters adjacent to the Police Department in the Municipal Building at 10th and Q.

This Municipal Building space that would be vacated by the Health Department is a natural for a new combined city and county jail. There would be adequate room for the facility and the combination would solve many problems. It would contribute much to the co-ordination of law-enforcement work between the two agencies of government and this is certainly a desirable end.

Also, it would solve the jail problem in connection with the proposed new city-county government building. Without the jail question settled, a bond program for the government building has just that much less chance of passing. It would simply be one of the unknown factors in the building program and too many unknown factors mean certain defeat for any project.

The government building could be planned without the jail and the voters told exactly what the building would contain if the law departments were merged at this time. Such a merger should also make a contribution to the efficiency of the two departments. City and county officials would be wise to go along with the chamber in the proposed study of a joint jail. It is a program in which no fault can be found.

It's Your Guess

Now that the American people are reflecting upon the low state of their international fortunes with an idea of reforming their practices, it would just as well carry the housecleaning into the domestic area and require of political candidates more consistency and less expedience in what they declare to the public.

The ease with which they reverse themselves and veer with the wind imputes a certain shallowness of mind and memory on the part of the public that is no more true than complimentary. America will get farther relying on candor and consistency.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch brought up a case in point. After New York's governor Rockefeller recently admonished the Republican party to quit its foot-dragging on economic growth, and called for diligent efforts to maintain a growth rate of at least 5 per cent lest Russia speed past us, Vice President Nixon appeared before the Junior Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis and disparagingly referred to the whole matter as a parlor game in 'growthmanship." But the Post-Dispatch with the memory of an elephant turned back to April 24, 1958, a distance of time of slightly more than a year, and quoted Mr. Nixon himself, on the same subject in an address before the American Newspaper Publishers association.

The Post-Dispatch reported him as saying: "The Soviet economy is growing faster than ours . . . We must recognize that competition between the free world and the Communist world may well decide the world conflict. . . The only way to stay ahead is to move ahead. To meet (our) domestic needs, together with the increasing cost of our programs for national security, we should set as our goal not the present rate of growth of our economy of 3 per cent, but the higher rate of 5 per cent recommended by the Rockefeller report . . . This goal will never be achieved if we adopt a stand-pat, status quo attitude toward our economy."

Now which is the real Mr. Nixon?

Only We Were Different

Fourth of July 1960 is just around the corner and is subject to celebration for at least two special reasons. One is that despite the pessimists and the communists we are still here. Providence, as usual, is steering the ship. The other is that for the first time there will be 50 stars in the flag on Independence Day.

The story of the 50 stars is an interesting one because they got there by so many different ways.

The first 13 got there by a common calamity which forced 13 British colonies to fight their way to independence, and from there to where no one originally quite knew. But it happily resulted in the United States.

Shortly after that there were seventeen, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio. They came in not by revolution but as a direct consequence of it.

Farther west and later, more came in through pioneering and settlement, resulting from clashing between the Red man's civilization and the White man's. Straight purchase provided for more when the government acquired Louisiana. Texas, an independent republic, came in on a treaty. Conquest with and purchase from Mexico provided the source of a number of southwestern states. California made it by secession from Mexico. Northern border negotiations with England produced a harvest in the northwest. That brought it up to 48. Alaska arrived by a purchase arrangement with Russia immediately after the civil war, while Hawaii overthrew its local ruler, Queen Lilliukolani, and was both annexed and de-annexed by the U.S. in 1893, but in 1897 it entered the family for keeps.

The moral seems to be, no matter how you make it, it is a happy lodge which makes all members resemble one another—the best federal idea ever conceived.

Texans Prevail Over Landmarks

WASHINGTON — It isn't Sen. Lyndon Johnson's fault, but some of his fellow Texans aren't building up any goodwill for Texas in the nation's capital. This includes Speaker Sam Rayburn, Lyndon's campaign manager.

Two Texans have just maneuvered to disrupt the colonial architecture of the most historic square in America with a modern new brick and glass court building, chiefly because one of them wants to walk to work.

The Texan who wants to walk to work is Judge Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Sam Rayburn's brother-in-law, who wants a new court of claims building erected in place of the historic Dolly Madison mansion, the Benjamin D. Tayloe house, and the old Belasco Theatre on LaFayette Square, diagonally opposite the White House.

The Dolly Madison mansion, where the wife of the fourth president gave some of her gayest parties, is one of the oldest colonial houses in Washington. The Belasco theatre is being proposed as a small-scale opera house in the one major capital of the world which has no opera house at all.

However, Judge Jones lives at the University Club, a few blocks away on 16th street. He testified quite frankly that it was more convenient for him to have his new court building within walking distance. "If we were located at the alternate site, transportation back and forth would be necessary," he said.

The judge can also walk across the square to the Metropolitan Club for lunch, then back to the University Club to play bridge.

☆ ☆ ☆

Another Texan close to Sam Rayburn is Eugene Worley, judge of the Customs and Patent Appeals Court. He too wants to tear down the Dolly Madison mansion et al in favor of a modern court edifice.

These two Texans, who have influence with the Democrats, were joined by Republican Judge I. Jack Martin, also of the Customs-Patent Appeals Court. Martin was Senator Taft's assistant, and former White House contact man with Congress; so has influence with both the White House and congressional Republicans.

So, although every civic-minded organization in the nation's capital went to bat for the preservation of LaFayette Square, these two Texans plus one Taft Republican proceeded to get their way.

Sure Thing Blew Up In North Dakota

BISMARCK, N.D. — The special Senate election here is a decisive Republican defeat even if a recount awards the contested seat to Gov. John E. Davis, Republican, over Rep. Quentin Burdick, Democrat.

Its effects will be felt throughout the Midwest which it defines as a battleground where resurgent Democrats hold the initiative. The Midwest's decision on the presidency this year could go either way and Republicans trying to win ten United States Senate seats in the area are badly handicapped. North Dakota Republicans had their best candidate and nothing was spared in the effort to elect him. The money and the star performers flowed here in quantity. The best campaign operatives available lived here for months. Neither Governor Davis nor his record was an issue in the campaign.

Yet the state which only four years ago did not really have the two-party system turned away from its long tradition. North Dakota said it did not like Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson nor the Republican party as it is now operated.

☆ ☆ ☆

Party managers conceded this before the close of the heart-stopping count of the Davis-Burdick race. They were the more chagrined because they had felt that their efforts had paid off and that the amazingly large vote which appeared very early in the day insured a Davis victory.

After all, the farm population of the state has suffered a steady attrition during the Eisenhower years. Some put the figure at 40,000, a high percentage in a state whose normal primary vote rarely reaches 200,000.

As the local leaders kept their all-night vigil over the Davis-Burdick seesaw they tried to figure it out. The sturdy Scandinavian types, the sandy-haired Irishman with the twinkling eye, the youngsters who had worked so hard and were so crushed, and the old pros were all startled and puzzled.

Burdick had run against Benson but Davis had disavowed the troubles of the farmers, even though the farmers were fewer, and the soil bank was killing the small towns. Postmaster General Summerfield had hurt by insisting upon delivery by mail on trucks, not trains.

The bitter comment came that "Summerfield loves those truck-makers in his state (Michigan) better than he loves the party."

Even so, they said, the state was not a disaster area, things were going pretty well. This was confirmed by a Fargo banker who sensed some deep unrest for which he did not know the answer.

☆ ☆ ☆

At two a.m., Washington time, Vice-President Richard Nixon called to ask what had happened to Davis' early lead. He said he was keeping a man on duty in his office to get the word if Davis got a winning margin during the night. By eight a.m. Nixon was back on the wire to be told of further slippage.

As the counties came in, it was duly noted that Davis carried four and lost one where Gov. Nelson Rockefeller campaigned for him, carried one and lost two where Vice-President Nixon had encouraged everyone by drawing big crowds.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Case Of The Vanishing Deer

By MONA B. PARKER

The wheat and small grain crops around Ravenna are exceptionally promising, the News reports, and shortly after the Fourth of July the harvest should be on. Growing conditions have been ideal through the entire winter and spring. Heavy snow protected the stand, bringing it through the winter without harm. There was the cool weather of spring and the rains of May and June.

Storms or unseasonal heat are the only remaining worries as the crop enters what the News calls the "hold-breath" stage.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Polk Progress was wishing for a cessation of the moisture for a few days to allow the farmers to go out in their fields and find the corn. "Most corn fields look as though they had been seeded down to pasture."

☆ ☆ ☆

When the weather warmed up around Lyons, Stan Samuelson, full-time editor and part-time skier, dug skiis and poles he had borrowed out of his garage and returned them to their owner. He probably looked a little odd, toting winter sports equipment down the street in June, he said, but no funnier than a fellow townsman he observed wearing a white shirt and bow tie — and overalls.

"They say that when these fishermen crack up, they really crack up, and now I know what they mean."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Pawnee Republican noticed that the old and new in farm machinery are not too widely scattered. A short trip showed a man cultivating corn with a single-row horse-drawn cultivator, and a field where his neighbor was using his new four-row cultivator. And four-row machinery is not the latest thing available, either. Those traveling through the eastern part of the corn belt report eight-row planters and six-row listers in operation.

The Republican ponders over one aspect of this. A four-row lister will take up the space of more than half the road. "How would a farmer with a piece of eight-row machinery get it from one place to another every time he wanted to move it?"

☆ ☆ ☆

And then there's the young housewife of Hooper who did the gardening this year and planted all the sets upside down, according to the Sentinel, resulting in decided crooks in all the new onions.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sheriff Rudy Fick of Blair received a call from a motorist who said he had struck and killed a deer out on the highway. A deputy was dispatched to the scene. There was evidence of carnage but no deer to be found. The theory was that someone stopped and picked up the dead animal with the idea of filling his deep freeze.

It was pointed out that anyone doing this would be faced with a $300 fine, plus a $100 fine and 30 days in jail. The case is still being investigated.

With flash flood waters rising all around Arlington, a feed store operator there was kept busy with his high-wheeled delivery truck, towing unwary motorists through the depths. Suddenly he saw a Volkswagon coming down the submerged road, but there was no one behind the wheel. Another look revealed the driver behind the car, pushing it along like a boat. The miniature car looked all the more so before its owner, a 280-pound professional football player who explained that he was in "too much of a hurry to wait for a tow."

MARQUIS CHILDS

States' Power, Position Deteriorating

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. — Once a year the governors of America's 50 states come together for the kind of outing they have just had here. Like princes of the blood they assemble with their entourages to get the full ceremonial treatment and to discuss in solemn conclave their mutual troubles.

But a great deal of the time, when they are not on public display, they lament over what a rough, tough life a governor leads. And they give convincing evidence of the hazard of holding public office under a system that with the overlapping and duplication of federal, state and local levels of government is perhaps as wasteful as any history has ever seen.

The premiums all seem to be on inefficiency, indifference, waste and even graft. Where the term is for only two years, the governor, once elected, must begin immediately he is inaugurated to start campaigning for re-election. Where the state constitution provides that a governor may hold only one term, there is little incentive to do more than get through the job. With a career interrupted, the governor, once a term is ended, must somehow rehabilitate himself and get back into private life.

What, above all, this conference has shown, as have others in the recent past, is that the states are increasingly dependencies of the federal government. The federal government has preempted the great source of tax revenue and virtually every governor must scratch for funds to scrape by on. With more and more services to provide, the consequence is that almost everything is skimped, and vital institutions such as mental hospitals are constantly being exposed as little better than dungeons.

As Gov. Orville Freeman pointed out, the squeeze gets worse with the federal share of all government spending for domestic purposes decreasing from 47 per cent in 1948 to 35 per cent in 1957. The states must fill in most of this gap. So the pressure on the governors is to step up the sales tax, pushing the cost of government onto lower-income families.

The dependency is political as well as economic and that has been evident in this presidential year. The fate of many governors, or so they believe, hangs on the national ticket.

☆ ☆ ☆

Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island, who as a Republican squeaked into office two years ago, is fearful that if Sen. Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, the Republicans will abandon New England and he will go down to defeat. In Iowa Gov. Herschel Loveless, a Democrat, running for the Senate, is afraid that neither Kennedy nor any Democrat can carry his state and so quite understandably he is out to save himself, as he did in 1956 when he ran 250,000 votes ahead of Adlai Stevenson.

In Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams has played out his string after six two-year terms as governor. Much of the time he spent in mortal combat with a Republican legislature—one of the interesting obstacles in the way of any government at all being the division of powers between legislature and executive.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, serving his second term which expires at the end of next year, faces the problem of so many governors—what to do next? He is rated an able governor, but having to make so many tough decisions on taxes and services, a governor is bound to make more enemies than friends. If no Senate seat is open, then a political career comes to a full stop.

Under the Eisenhower administration the unrelenting pressure has been to push onto the states a greater share of the cost of government. And without too much success the states have fought back. This kind of gamesmanship entirely avoids the central problem which is the proliferating burden of an impenetrable jungle of government. The very fact of 50 states—six, for example, in the tiny area of New England — is an anachronism.

There was not the slightest sign here that anyone is about to face up to the central problem. But it is perfectly obvious that the longer this is postponed, the greater will be the deterioration at almost every level.

Spending Bills

Norfolk, Neb.

Sen. Douglas of Illinois has done a good job of pointing out waste by the military in certain purchases.

However, if he and his Democratic colleagues want to really be friends of the taxpayer, they should stop introducing their multi-billion - dollar boondoggling spending bills. But perhaps this is too much to ask. The Democrats have a real knack for introducing such bills, especially in an election year!

The Tourist

Howells, Neb.

If personally conducted tours of diplomacy such as recent ones are such a howling success, why doesn't Mr. Nixon, the experienced tourist come out and state:

"We Republicans will carry on, will evangelize the world for freedom as never before."

Surely the vice president has his election to the top job cinched and consequently will have eight full years to put the Commies to rout on the diplomatic and ideological levels.

We are faced with an accomplished fact, that in four places we have been insulted, assaulted, dared and accused. Is there a man among us who could cope with these almost fatalistic nose-dives in our American career? Certainly Nixon and Kennedy with a torn nation brought about by a singular election will not be able to counteract let alone overcome our single-purposed foe.

Presbyterians Qualify Resolution Regarding Presidential Elections

Roman Catholic Church Urged Change Stand On Two Major Issues Before UP Members Support Candidates

Hastings (AP) — The Nebraska Synod of the United Presbyterian Church Thursday overwhelming voted down a resolution opposing election of a Roman Catholic president.

In its place, it adopted a resolution declaring "it is an act of irresponsible citizenship to support or oppose a candidate solely because of his religious affiliation."

The question provoked heated debate that took up most of the final session of the synod's annual meeting. In the end, the meeting sharply qualified its stand with a declaration that members of the church "will find it difficult to support a Roman Catholic candidate until the Roman Catholic Church changes its present stand on two major issues:

"—The separation of church and state.

"—The right of Protestant churches to complete religious freedom in all countries."

The meeting added an amendment to the resolution commending "those Roman Catholic candidates for public office in their stand for the segregation of church and state who publicly and definitely disassociate themselves from the official teachings of the Roman Catholic Church regarding its rights and power over the state."

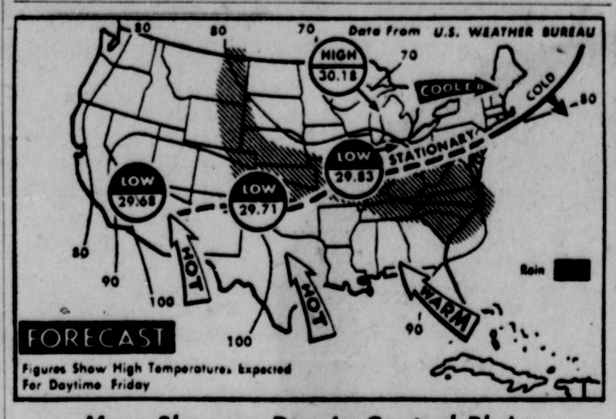

The name of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) was not mentioned, but a spokesman said delegates understood the commendation applied to Kennedy, a Catholic who is the front-runner for the Democratic nomination for president.

The resolution as adopted followed the policy set earlier by the General Assembly of the church. It asserted that "it is the duty of all citizens to examine a candidate's position on important issues of public policy, including those related to separation of church and state."

Winding up its meeting, the synod named these chairmen of standing committees:

The Rev. Lynn F. Taylor, Fremont, Christian education committee; the Rev. Howard Dooley, Omaha, ministerial relations; the Rev. Donald A. Proett, Wahoo, and the Rev. Donald J. Koets, Omaha, radio and television.

T. S. Hook of Wayne and Ralph T. Walker, Norfolk, were named synod trustees.

Welsh Claims Ag Department Holding Back Research Work

Omaha (UPI) — J. Leroy Welsh, Omaha, former chairman of the President's bipartisan commission on increased industrial use of farm products, Thursday blamed the U.S. Department of Agriculture for holding back research on increasing industrial usage of crops.

Welsh said the USDA is supposed to be doing research in 4 laboratories established for this purpose.

Instead, he said, 85% of the work being done is designed to increase farm production.

Welsh said he has talked with USDA officials and cannot get the department's full co-operation.

Welsh was one of the speakers at a meeting here of the recently formed Agricultural Products Utilization Assn.

The association, formed last February under auspices of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, is a quasi-official non-profit organization designed to stimulate and possibly sponsor research into increased industrial usage.

Welsh said the agriculture problem is larger than any political problem. He said he has been trying to show labor organizations and the petroleum industry why they should be interested in doing research to find new uses for farm products.

Welsh said that if 10% of alcohol could be added to gasoline for automobile fuel, 1,700,000 bushels of grain could be consumed. He said alcohol is a more perfect fuel for car engines than petroleum products.

Pearle Finigan, Nebraska director of agriculture, said an effort should be pushed to link the trend of scientific discovery to farm products.

The effort, he said, must be non-political.

Alcoholic Beverage Revenue Shows Rise

The total revenue to Nebraska from the sale of alcoholic beverages so far during the year shows an increase over last year, Walter C. Haase, secretary of the State Liquor Control Commission, reported Thursday.

During June, $235,672 was collected, compared to $261,641 during the previous month.

Treasurers Must Pay Truck Fee

. . . To State

The attorney general said in an opinion Thursday that county treasurers should pay the $5 fee charged for the issuance of second-half plates for trucks to the motor vehicle department or the state treasurer.

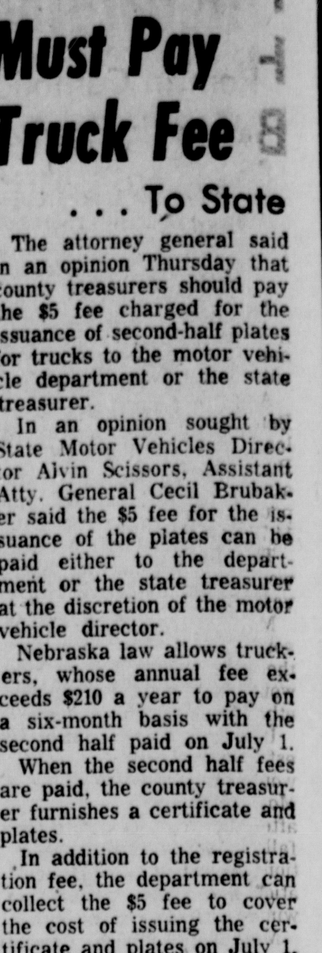

In an opinion sought by State Motor Vehicles Director Alvin Scissors, Assistant Atty. General Cecil Brubaker said the $5 fee for the issuance of the plates can be paid either to the department or the state treasurer at the discretion of the motor vehicle director.

Nebraska law allows truckers, whose annual fee exceeds $210 a year to pay on a six-month basis with the second half paid on July 1.

When the second half fees are paid, the county treasurer furnishes a certificate and plates.

In addition to the registration fee, the department can collect the $5 fee to cover the cost of issuing the certificate and plates on July 1.

'2,4-D Spraying Should Precede Harvest 10 Days'

The chemical 2,4-D can be used to control weeds in wheat by spraying one pound of 2,4-D ester per acre 10 to 14 days before harvest.

John Furrer, Extension agronomist at the College of Agriculture, makes this recommendation as a result of the policy statement released by the Food and Drug Administration.

"The chemical 2,4-D has never been detected in wheat during the past 12 years," Furrer said. "If a 2,4-D residue should be found in wheat, the Food and Drug Administration has agreed to set tolerances so the wheat can be marketed. The recommended rate of 1 pound of 2,4-D ester per acre should easily come within any tolerances that might be set."

Furrer emphasized that farmers should not expect satisfactory results if 2,4-D is sprayed one or two days before harvest. By spraying 10 to 14 days before harvest, the chemical will have a chance to control weeds, he said. This also will give time for disappearance of the chemical before harvest, he added. An aerial application is most practical.

"Spraying with 2,4-D is about the only alternative for coping with the weed problem in many wheat fields," Furrer said. "The wheat could be windrowed, but continued wet conditions would make this practice unsatisfactory."

Harvesting Halts After Brief Start

Buss Delivers Beatrice Wheat

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Nebraska's wheat harvest got isolated starts this week and then sputtered to a halt with damp cloudy weather.

Aller & Pease elevator of Beatrice, receiving their first load of wheat from Herman Buss who farms south of Beatrice, said the load tested 60 pounds per bushel and had a 14.76 moisure test.

This firm expected another week before the general harvest would start in their area.

Most elevator operators in southeastern Nebraska said the rain and cloudy weather would delay the harvest another week.

It is expected that the earliest planted wheat last fall would produce the best yields. Most farmers who planted after the fly free date last fall lacked moisture conditions to provide good germination and a fast start before winter, grainmen said.

Most of the harvest to date has been barley fields with fair to good yields reported.

Russia Makes Cautious Summit Meet Overtures

. . . Eye Some Date After Ike Leaves Office

London (UPI) — The Russians are making cautious overtures to Britain to take the lead in setting up new summit negotiations between East and West after President Eisenhower has left office, diplomatic sources reported Thursday.

Moscow was said to be sending up trial balloons via both official and unofficial channels, suggesting that Prime Minister Macmillan should act as "mediator" between the two sides and push for top-level negotiations early in 1961.

British reaction has been cool thus far, according to the sources. Macmillan was one of the prime movers behind the Paris Big 4 Summit conference which was torpedoed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The sources said the Kremlin has made no formal proposal to Britain to mediate between Russia and the United States. But they said the Russians have made strong hints that Britain could and should help to pave the way for a new summit meeting.

The Russians apparently fully realize, the sources said, that in view of Khrushchev's performance in Paris and his tirades against Eisenhower, the U.S. government is not likely to answer readily any call for a new heads-of-government conference.

Bladen Rejects $110,000 Issue

Bladen—Citizens here defeated a $110,000 bond issue which would have financed construction of a gymnasium-auditorium.

Final vote was 134 for the proposal and 154 against it. A 55% favorable majority was needed for passage.

The Bladen Board of Education called the election after making a study to determine the best way to improve the school's physical education plant. The proposed gymnasium would have been of regulation size and would have seated 1,000 persons.

U.S. Farm Product Prices Take Another Drop Of 2%

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported Thursday that farm prices dipped 2% this month. The development may add new weight to the farm issue at next month's national party conventions.

The price decline came on top of another of nearly 1% the previous month.

It did much toward melting away price gains made earlier in the year.

Democrats expect to make gains among farm voters at this year's elections. Republicans may seek new ways of bolstering farm returns in an effort to hold traditionally Republican farming areas.

Democrats and some Republicans have blamed agricultural setbacks on policies and programs of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

The new report of the farm price decline came a few days after the government had reported an increase in consumer food prices.

From the farmer's standpoint, part of the price decline was offset by a reduction of 1% in the level of prices he pays for goods and services.

The June level of prices received by farmers was 2½% below that of a year ago.

Hogs— a major product of the important midwestern food basket—offered Republicans a little sunshine. Hog prices went up about 4% during the month.

But wheat—a major income provider in the Great Plains—went down about 5% under the impact of the harvesting season.

Prices received by farmers in mid-June averaged 236% of the 1910-14 base average compared with 241 in mid-May, 242 in mid-June last year, and the record high of 313 set in February, 1951.

Prices paid by farmers in mid-June averaged 299% of the 1910-12 base average compared with 301 in mid-May, 298 in mid-June last year, and the record high of 302 set in mid-April this year.

Federal Pay Hike Measure Vetoed

. . . Ike Calls Lobbying Activities 'Shocking'

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday denounced and vetoed a bill to raise the pay of 1½ million government workers a total of 764 million dollars a year.

His veto message, unusual for its sharp language, struck at "shocking . . . deplorable" lobbying activities he ascribed to some postal workers.

"I am informed," he said, "that the enactment was attended by intensive and unconcealed political pressure exerted flagrantly and in concert on members of Congress by a number of postal field service employes, particularly their leadership . . .

Foresees Indignation

"Were the pressure tactics surrounding the passage of this bill, and apparently further intended in the event of its veto, widely known to the American people, their indignation and outrage in all its power would be quickly felt—and rightly so."

The House will vote Friday on whether to pass the bill over Eisenhower's veto. The bill originally passed the House 377-40 and the Senate 62-17, margins far more than the two-thirds that would be needed to enact the bill despite the veto.

However, a House Republican spokesman expressed belief the veto would be upheld, through a switch of Republican votes to Eisenhower's side. If the House should vote to sustain the veto, the Senate would not vote on it.

Eisenhower has been overridden on only one veto since he became President.

Under the bill Eisenhower has now vetoed, pay raises approximating 7½% would go into effect July 1 for 535,000 postal workers, 980,000 classified civil service employes, 8,000 foreign service employes, 19,000 officers and employes of the Veterans Administration, 15,000 agriculture stabilization and conservation county committee employes, 5,000 judiciary branch workers and 7,500 congressional employes.

Our Cracked Liberty Bell

Ask the average American about the Liberty Bell, and probably the only thing he'll know for sure is that it's cracked.

Philadelphia's famous bell achieved its lofty place among the nation's relics with a proud and patriotic record, but one that has little resemblance to the public's vague impression of its history.

For instance, do you know the bell wasn't cracked during the Revolutionary period? That it narrowly escaped the junk yard? That a now-forgotten political group put it back in circulation by adopting it as a party symbol?

These and other arresting facts about the Liberty Bell are told in a fast-paced and highly readable feature in the July 3rd

Opportunities on the Farm?

Are rural people leaving the farm faster than in the past? That's the quickly-reached conclusion of many Midwesterners as they study census reports. But the facts, as determined by a University of Nebraska professor, are different. Those on the farms aren't leaving faster; young people are not entering farming as an occupation in the numbers they formerly did. Read this interesting study of rural life in the July 3rd Sunday Journal and Star.

Strawberry Patch Struggle Paying Dividends

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Cortland — Behind many a strawberry shortcake for miles around is the story of what a lot of hard work and a little advertising can do.

To C. O. Johnson it's the story of sweet success, for the single acre he transformed into a strawberry patch has paid off with nearly 700 "berries" in the bank this season alone.

Recalling that the 7,000 plants he set out 3 years ago cost $200, he noted that most of the $600 to $700 will be profit — several times the net on grain farming.

During the 3-week season just ended, some 2,600 quarts of berries were bought by "do-it-yourself pickers."

The customers — at least 75% buying for deep freezers —came from Lincoln, Crab Orchard, Beatrice, Hickman, Hallam, Firth and several other towns.

"We can grow berries in Nebraska which are just as good as those anywhere," said Johnson, who has had the experience of picking berries in Oregon. "Ours were big and sweet, and one even measured 5 inches around."

Although the acreage owner would advise that there's more money in strawberries than geese, he cautions that there's also plenty of work. His custodian duties at Lincoln Air Force Base keep him busy from 4 a.m. to mid-afternoon. Then it's often to the berry patch for hoeing until dark.

But then, a man can't have his shortcake and eat it too.

Station Closing Fails To Surprise Eddyville Agent

Eddyville — Orders to close the "highline" railroad station at Eddyville came as no surprise to Hampton King, station agent.

"They've been talking about it for the past 10 years," he stated.

The State Railway Commission authorized the closing following a hearing on the request by the Union Pacific Railroad, and after considering a protest by Eddyville residents to the proposal.

The Eddyville station will be the second one to close on the highline since inception of rail service on the Kearney-Stapleton line about 70 years ago. The Miller station was closed some time ago.

New Export-Import Bank Venture Should Aid Aviation—Waugh

The Export-Import Bank of Washington is moving into a new field of export financing which should substantially boost export of aviation products.

Waugh

Former Lincoln banker Samuel C. Waugh, president of the Export - Import Bank, discussed the new program in an article in the May issue of Aerospace.

The publication is a product of the Aerospace Industries Assn. of America, Inc.

"The key to the program is our issue of guarantees for 'political' risks," Waugh wrote.

The guarantees are provided "in conjunction with commercial lending and export insurance firms assuming the usual credit risks of protracted default and bankruptcy," he noted.

The final "package deal" should be competitive with export credit insurance abroad, Waugh pointed out.

Since its formation in 1934, the Export-Import Bank has extended credits to foreign flag carriers and private foreign carriers amounting to $242,243,337 for transport-type aircraft.

63% Past 5 Years

Approximately 63% of these loans have been made in the past 5 years.

In addition, the bank has loaned $30,490,000 for airports and airport equipment, most of it in the last 10 years.

"Sale of our new turboprop and turbojet aircraft to foreign carriers has been aided by Eximbank," Waugh said.

"We now are looking into the possibility of broadening our endeavors to include, on a limited basis, spare aircraft parts, used aircraft, light or general-type aircraft and helicopters."

The new policy on short-term transactions should be "particularly helpful" in the area of spare parts as well as light aircraft, Waugh noted.

Speedy Processing

In addition to political risk coverage, the new plan permits speedier processing of applications, the banker pointed out.

Among political risks which the bank assumes:

—inability of a buyer to obtain U.S. dollars upon presentation of local currency at his bank abroad.

—cancellation of an import license.

—war, hostilities, rebellion or civil commotion.

—imposition of a low or regulation beyond the control of the exporter and buyer which prevents delivery of goods.

—expropriation of exported items by foreign authorities.

"These risks are all non-commercial in nature, as opposed to normal commercial risks," Waugh wrote.

The Eximbank, in the case of the last 4 risks, will pay the exporter 90% of his losses.

In the first instance, the bank will pay the U.S. exporter 90% of the amount of local currency deposited.

14 County Tax Abstracts Still Out; Latecomers Expected

Tax abstracts for 1960 have now been received from 79 counties, State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson said Thursday, leaving 14 to go by Friday's deadline.

It is not expected that history will be made Friday with all 93 counties reporting on time. Douglas County, for one, has indicated its abstract will not be in until sometime next week.

The tallies on 7 more counties processed through Johnson's office continue to boost the total valuations this year, compared with 1959.

The total 1960 tangible valuations (less railroads) in each of these counties, plus valuations on Class A intangibles (cash, book accounts), and Class B intangibles (stocks and bonds) were:

Stranded Reactor Vessel May Be MovedNextWeek

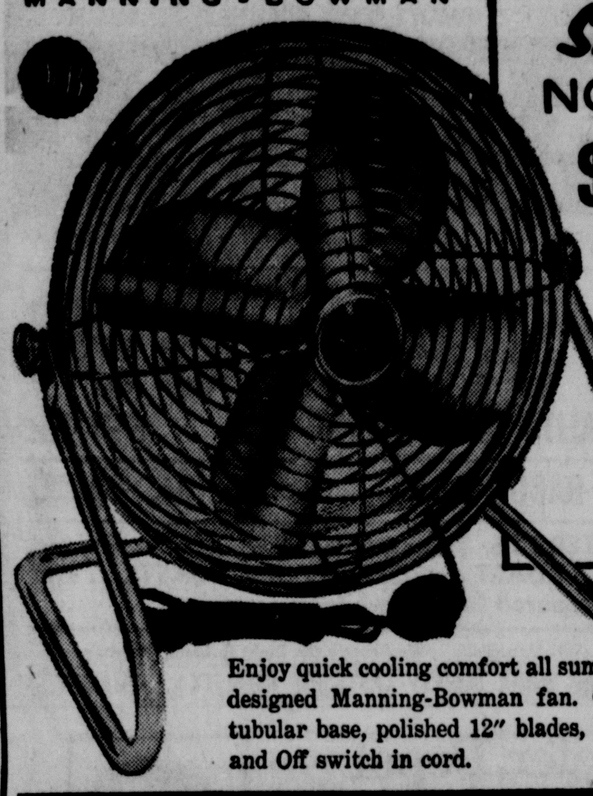

The 65-ton stainless steel reactor vessel for the Hallam atomic power plant which bogged down in a cornfield near Murdock last week probably won't be moved until the middle of next week according to Consumers Public Power District officials.

Wet ground due to rainy weather has caused the delay.

Officials said several plans are under consideration for reloading the vessel onto a truck for the remainder of the journey.

Red Chinese Boss Promises Probe, Amends For Nepal Border Incident

Tokyo (Friday) (AP)—Peiping radio reported today Red China's Premier Chou En-lai has promised to investigate and make any necessary amends for a reported shooting incident on the Nepal border. Nepal has charged the Chinese killed a Nepali officer and took 17 prisoners.

The radio said Chou would express extreme regret if the incident actually occurred, and any Nepalese detained would be released speedily.

Nepal on Wednesday accused Red troops of firing across the Nepali border without provocation.

The Nepal protest was delivered to the Chinese Embassy in Katmandu.

Red China said it had sent troops into a demilitarized zone to suppress what it called "a batch of Nepal bandits making harassment within our territory close to the Chinese-Nepalese border."

It said the Chinese government had notified the Nepalese of the action through its ambassador to India and Nepal.

'Ensure Peace'

The communists said the troops were sent "so as to ensure tranquility on the border between the two countries . . . so that Chinese-Nepalese friendly relations will not be affected thereby."

Radio Peiping said Red China had promised "in the course of the suppression, our troops will strictly confine their operations within our territory and will in no case go beyond our own territory. Our side would not cross the border to pursue the rebel bandits if they should flee into Nepalese territory."

Sanders Suggests An Epitaph For Holiday Accident Victims

"He drove too long, too far, too fast, too foolishly, and with only two beers," might well be the combined epitaph of the many careless drivers killed in holiday accidents.

Colonel C. J. Sanders, Nebraska Safety Patrol, urged Nebraskans as they prepared to celebrate the long 4th of July weekend, to remember that the traffic accident is the greatest tragedy maker.

Safety Patrol records show that 3 persons were killed and 103 injured in Nebraska last year as a result of traffic accidents over the long holiday weekend.

"Even though local officers and members of the Safety Patrol will be patroling Nebraska's streets and highways, they alone will not be able to prevent motorists from killing or injuring themselves. When it comes right down to it, one of the most effective deterrents to traffic accidents is the driver himself," said Col. Sanders.

"Maybe the best way to prevent accidents is to stay home and have a nice, quiet, safe and sane 4th of July with the family. But if you must drive, we hope you will try to be the best and safest driver on the road," he concluded.

A Bride On Thursday

MRS. COLTON ROSS SMITH

Cathedral candles, in tall candelabra, and arrangements of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums formed an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Willa Kay Delehoy, daughter of Mrs. William Vinson Delehoy, and the late Mr. Delehoy, and Colton Ross Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Colton Slaymaker Smith, which took place on Thursday evening, June 30, at the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. C. Vin White solemnized the service, and Miss Grace Finch played the wedding music. Hugh Rangeler was the vocal soloist.

The attendants were Miss Janet Lytle, the maid of honor; Miss Barbara Kuhn of Kansas City, Mo., Miss Linda Gill Douglas of Port Arthur, Tex., and Miss Marilyn Winter, the bridesmaids.

Lynn Wallace Brown of Kansas City, Kan., served as best man, and seating the guests were Kenneth Filbert, Robert Theede, Robert Marks, Douglas Kent and Bill Wilson.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white satin and peau d'Ange lace for her gown. The lace, embroidered with seed pearls, fashioned the long-sleeved Empire bodice designed with a cameo neckline, and the voluminous skirt of satin extended into a cathedral train. Her waist-length veil of imported illusion was held in place with a miniature crown of pearls and sequins, and she carried white orchids on a white prayer book.

Mr. Smith and his bride, following a reception in the Great Hall, left for a honeymoon trip to the Tetons and Yellowstone Park. After July 12, they will be at home at 3000 Greene Ave., Fort Worth, Tex.

Both the bride and the bridegroom attend Texas Christian University where Mrs. Smith is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Smith is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Had Church Wedding

The marriage of Miss Doris Elaine Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Jones, to William Jess Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Rogers of Berkeley, Calif., took place on Sunday, June 26, at the Tabernacle Christian Church. The Rev. Grover Thompson solemnized the 3 o'clock ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Richard C. Stednitz. Dean Lindberg was the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Dale A. Jones, as the matron of honor and only attendant wore a sheath of white lace and pink chiffon. Dale Jones served as best man.

The bride appeared in a gown of white peau de soie designed with a sculptured bodice and bouffant skirt. Her shoulder-length double veil was held to the head with a cap of peau de soie, and she carried a bouquet of white blossoms.

Following the reception Mr. Rogers and his bride left for a honeymoon trip through the southwest after which they will go to Oakland, Calif., to reside.

Mrs. Rogers is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, business girls' sorority.

Around The Town

—July paid no attention to June's farewell tantrum, and arrived right on schedule as it always does. There is a large and long Fourth of July week end coming up with a variety of activities at the country clubs, the parks—and here and there about town.

But this morning we are particularly interested in the guests who are not, especially, holiday visitors.

—We hear that Mrs. O. V. Calhoun spent several days at her summer home at Pelican Lake recently, and while there she was joined by her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Van de Water recently of Palo Alto, Calif. Dr. Van de Water, who was just graduated from Stanford University School of Medicine, went from Minnesota to Philadelphia where he will intern at Philadelphia General Hospital. Mrs. Van de Water, however, returned to Lincoln with her mother and will remain here until after the Fourth.

Other guests at the home of Mrs. Calhoun have included another son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Walt Weaver and their three children, Dan, Elizabeth and David.

At the moment Dr. and Mrs. Weaver are house-hunting in Denver where Dr. Weaver, who has just completed a three-year Fellowship at Mayo's in Rochester, Minn., will be in public health service.

Mrs. Weaver will return to Lincoln and, with the children, will spend three weeks at the home of her mother while Dr. Weaver takes an orientation course in Washington D.C.

And arriving today from Des Moines, where he is spending the summer as a member of the Register-Tribune reportorial staff, will be David Calhoun.

—And there are guests from Idaho to mention this morning, also—They are Dr. and Mrs. John Messmore and their small son, Eric, who arrived on Thursday from Pocatello, to spend the holiday week end as the guests of Dr. Messmore's parents, Judge and Mrs. Frederick W. Messmore. Completing the family group will be Dr. Messmore's son and daughter, Ted and Sue, who will come from Minneapolis, and who will accompany their father and Mrs. Messmore home to Idaho where they will spend the summer.

—Two members of the subdeb set, Marilyn and Patsy Linch, have a house guest, too. Miss Martha Rogers of Wichita Falls, Tex., arrived last Tuesday for a two-weeks stay in town, and among the many things planned during her visit is a trip to Pioneer Village at Minden. The sight-seeing trekkers, in addition to the guest, will include Mrs. Howard Linch, and her daughters.

Then we learned that when the young Miss Rogers completes her visit in Lincoln she will be accompanied back to Wichita Falls by Mrs. Linch, the Misses Marilyn, Patsy and Jean, who will spend some time in Texas as the guests of Mrs. Linch's mother, Mrs. Frances Roberts.

Late June Wedding

MRS. WALTER WALTKE

The wedding of Miss Janice L. Dobbs of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rhen J. Dobbs of Beatrice, and Walter L. Waltke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Waltke of Adams, took place on Saturday evening, June 25, at Christ Church, Episcopal, in Beatrice. The Rev. Don Kreymer solemnized the 7:30 o'clock ceremony, and Mrs. Shan Dunlap played the wedding music. Gale Miller was the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Howard D. Fager, as the matron of honor; Miss Judy Johnson, the maid of honor, and Miss Deanna Crone, the bridesmaid, all of Lincoln, wore alike frocks of orchid-toned chiffon over matching taffeta, and carried crescent bouquets of white carnations.

Elmer L. Waltke served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Daryl H. Haake of Lincoln, and Robert H. Waltke.

Designed in the princess mode, the gown chosen by the bride was fashioned of white satin. The long-sleeved bodice, with its portrait neckline, was snugly fitted above the wide floor-length skirt. Her veil of imported illusion was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a halo of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Delight roses.

Following the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Waltke and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Denver after which they will return to Lincoln where they will reside at 600 So. 52nd St.

The bride attended the National Business Institute.

Old, Neighborhood Tradition

For 30 years there has been a tradition at the home of Mrs. Guy N. Drummett, 2215 So. 35th St. Each year, at about this time, Mrs. Drummett has entertained the children in her immediate neighborhood at a party.

Thursday was tradition day for 1960.

Each year Mrs. Drummett's guest list increases, due to the fact there always are returning alumni—those children who have moved away from the neighborhood or perhaps out of town, who remember Mrs. Drummett's parties and are eager to attend. They always are invited.

The guests at yesterday's party include:

Incidentally, we think the party guests deserve a round of applause. Of their own volition, and with no prompting, they contributed some very precious nickles and pennies to Hope—the multiple sclerosis fund.

Ceremony In Texas

The marriage of Miss Sally Jo McLennan, daughter of Mrs. Will McLennan of Crawford, Tex., and the late Mr. McLennan, to Robert John Truhlar, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Truhlar of Lincoln,, took place on Saturday afternoon, June 18, at St. Mary's Church in Waco, Tex. The 5 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mark Deering, and John O'Brien played the wedding music. Mrs. John R. McNamara was the vocal soloist.

The two attendants, Mrs. Kenneth Ponsor of Dallas, Tex., the matron of honor, and maid of honor Miss Carole Hinds of Crawford, Tex., wore alike frocks of blue silk organza. Their hair bandeaux of velvet and tulle reflected the tone of their costumes, and they carried bouquets of feathered white carnations.

Edward F. Truhlar of Lincoln served as best man, and seating the guests were Bill McLennan of Clifton, Tex., and Charles M. Fulp of Crawford, Tex.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and silk organza. The figurine bodice was designed with a sabrina neckline, and the bouffant skirt, fashioned of alternating panels of organza and lace, was ballerina length. A lace calot, dotted with iridescent sequins, held to the head her circular veil, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

After a honeymoon trip along the Gulf coast, and in Colorado, Mr. Truhlar and his bride will reside at 7321 Platte Ave., in Lincoln.

The bride was graduated from the Sheffield School of Aeronautics, Miami, Fla. Mr. Truhlar was graduated from the Lincoln School of Commerce and attended the University of Nebraska.

DEAR ABBY
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a bunch of free-loading relatives who pile in on my poor old mother every Sunday. Cars with as many as eight of them drive up and they all stay for supper. Ma is in her eighties and that is a lot of work for an old woman to do all by herself. Nobody even stays to help her with the dishes.

I can't get over there every Sunday to take some of the load off her. These relatives are so cheap they don't even bring anything towards the meal, so Ma has to dig into her deep freeze. She is too good-natured to tell these freeloaders what she thinks of them. Pa almost blew his top last Sunday when the relatives brought some of their friends. Is it my place to say something or not?

CONCERNED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: You bet it's your place. Tell them off, and do it before next Sunday.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: How can I get my wife to remember what she should remember and forget what she should forget? When I take her to the grocery store she forgets what she went in to buy. But she can remember when I got drunk at the Elk's Club dance New Year's Eve in 1922. She is 76 and I am 77.

HENPECKED

DEAR HENPECKED: Forgetting what happened yesterday and remembering what happened 40 years ago is not uncommon in folks your age, and it's not serious. Just remember to thank your lucky stars every night that you still have each other.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: When I married Alfred 18 years ago, he was a widower with two tiny tots — one daughter and one son. I raised them both to adulthood and saw them married. I prided myself on being a good mother and everyone will tell you I did a fine job.

Last year Alfred's daughter fell victim to a fatal disease. I nursed her night and day until she died. It was a great shock and loss to all of us. What I want to know is, when do stepmothers start getting a little credit along with the hard work of raising another woman's children?

When the death notice appeared in the paper, I wasn't even mentioned. It read: "She left her husband, her father and one brother."

Would there have been anything wrong in mentioning the stepmother who raised her?

STEPPED ON STEPMOTHER

DEAR STEPPED ON: In a routine obituary or death notice, only blood kin are mentioned. There was no intentional slight here.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son has taken accordion lessons for four years and is quite a good little musician. The problem is this:

When we have guests his father insists that he play for them. The boy does it willingly but if he should make a mistake, his father shouts and humiliates him until the tears fall. The guests are ill at ease and I get sick inside. My husband says if the boy practiced more he would make fewer mistakes. But I know he makes mistakes because he is frightened to death of his father. The child is ready to give up the accordion and I don't blame him. Can you offer some helpful advice?

SYMPATHETIC MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: There is more involved here than accordion lessons. Your husband's lack of patience and understanding is tragic. Have the accordion teacher tell Father that public criticism does more harm than good. If he can't keep quiet while the boy plays, he should either leave the room or quit asking the boy to entertain the guests.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Because you reach so many people, I am writing this letter in hopes that you will print it. If you do, you could be indirectly responsible for saving many lives.

Recently I was in an automobile accident. Only because less than a month ago I donated blood to a friend of mine did I know my own blood type. I had it printed on a card and tucked in my wallet. It saved my life.

Men carry pictures of their wives, sweethearts, children, grandchildren and dogs; credit cards, other people's cards and membership cards by the dozens. But I wonder how many men reading this know their own blood type? And have sense enough to write it down and carry it with them?

"TYPE O"

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO KAREN: A smart girl doesn't show her hand until she's asked for it.

ASK—
Dorothy Draper

Are you the type that loves to be outdoors in the summer but never gets around to "fix up" more than an old folding chair under the apple tree?

Shame on you! This year get an early start and make a pleasant group, a big low table, some comfortable chairs (the new outdoor furniture is worth trying) if possible partly in the shade and partly in the sun, and relax with your friends with frosted glasses filled with tinkling ice, etc.

You might even build a fireplace and if you do, build it where the smoke won't take a contrary swush! and head for the eyes of your guests waiting for that hamburger. Study prevailing summer wind direction.

Paint the furniture white and have cushions for the chairs and chaise in bright paint-box colors. Patio lamps can be stuck in the ground for light. Beach rolls make excellent mats for grass sitters. Hang up an old fashioned hammock in fiesta colors. Take advantage of the long summer hours and enjoy yourself. But get started, "it's later than you think!"

Mrs. R. S. asks:

"My kitchen needs perking up. It is small 13 x 8 feet and is broken up by a doorway on each long wall. I'd like to use wallpaper or that imitation brick wallcovering. Would it do to use the brick for the bottom half and wallpaper for the upper — or would it be better to do just one wall? I'd like to make it look brighter and larger. I have a maple harvest table in it."

Dear Mrs. R. S.:

Personally, I'd like to see the white brick wallcovering over the whole thing. You can get plenty of color by hanging interesting things on the white wall — black trivets, pots of green ivy or philadendron in black holders, vivid pink geraniums, etc.

Miss S. H. B. asks:

"I need your help! My mother is going to have my room completely redecorated from the bedspreads to the floor. I don't have any idea about what to have done. The room is rather small — the ceiling is lower than average. There are two windows in the room but they don't give off too much light. I'd like something light and gay. There are twin beds in my room and they're of a grayish colored wood. The floor also has to be done and I'd preferably like to have it done in tile. Oh yes, I'm sixteen."

Dear Miss S. H. B.:

Since your room is small I'd like your entire room, walls, woodwork and ceiling done in the softest, clearest carnation pink. Black and white linoleum — sheer white curtains. White bedspread with dust ruffle in a fresh pink and white floral with bright green leaves.

CONTRACT BRIDGE
...By B. Jay Becker

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1♦	1♠	?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠AQ6 ♥9643 ♦872 ♣J53
2. ♠83 ♥AKJ7 ♦K6 ♣QJ942
3. ♠QJ82 ♥KQ4 ♦6 ♣AJ753
4. ♠— ♥KJ754 ♦AQ83 ♣AJ62
5. ♠KQ7 ♥AJ3 ♦Q952 ♣AJ8

1. Pass. When a player opens the bidding with one of any suit, his partner is required to respond if he has 6 or more points in high cards. The purpose of this requirement is to protect the opening bidder in case he happens to have a hand of 20 or more points.

But this obligation to keep the bidding going lapses as soon as the next player overcalls the opening bid. Since the opener in such case has another bid coming to him the moment the overcall takes place, the partner of the opening bidder is relieved of the obligation to respond. If he does bid under such conditions, he shows concrete values because it is a voluntary rather than a courtesy bid.

Usually, the free bid will be based on not less than 9 points. In this hand, despite the attractive spade holding, a voluntary bid of one notrump would be improper because of the lack of sufficient all-around values.

2. Two clubs. This is simply in line with the general principle of naming a five-card suit before a four-card suit. The intention is to bid hearts at the next opportunity so that partner will recognize the hearts as being only four cards in length.

3. Double. The best chance of showing a profit on the hand is to double for penalties. If partner accepts the business double, showing he has a normal opening bid, it is likely that East will be defeated one, two, or three tricks. Since game is, at this early stage, an uncertain quantity, it is best to grab the sure profit that is in sight.

4. Two spades. The possibility of making a slam in diamonds is substantial, and the best way to signal the potential slam is to cuebid to show both a void in spades and a very promising hand. If partner is weak in spades, which would mean he is strong elsewhere, a slam is very likely in the cards.

5. Three notrump. This is a quantitative bid showing 16 to 18 high-card points, notrump distribution, and all-around strength. Portraying, as it does, so exact a picture, it permits the opening bidder to determine immediately what the best contract is apt to be. If the opener has values distinctly above a minimum opening bid, he goes on the slam, either in a suit or notrump.

The Star In Suburbia

SOUTH HILLS

The welcome mat is out this morning for newcomers to the suburb, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Welch and their five-year-old son, David. Formerly residing at 2746 Garfield, the family moved into their home at 1825 Connie Rd., last week.

And moving to 6467 Walker Dr., at the Lincoln Air Force Base were Capt. and Mrs. John Mattioli and their three children, John, Vicki, and Joni. Their former address in South Hills was 1820 Rancho Rd.

With completion of classes at the University of Nebraska and graduation from the law college, Robert Walker, with his wife, and his son, two-year-old Scott, moved to Geneva on Sunday.

Farewell courtesies for the family whose Lincoln address has been 4129 Worthington, included a recent dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Doug Marti were host and hostess at their home, and a coffee last Wednesday given by Mrs. Ruth Gay at her home.

We then learned that cohostesses for a recent neighborhood coffee and farewell compliment to Mrs. Walker were Mrs. Don Leonard and Mrs. Duane Dorman.

A look at our birthday book tells us that Tom Knaub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Knaub, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary on Wednesday, June 22. Twenty of his young friends came over to the Knaub home late in the afternoon and then stayed for a picnic supper.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Now home following a vacation in Colorado are Mr. and Mrs. James Tice and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schmidt who stayed at the Schmidt cabin in Estes Park. While their parents were in Colorado, Holly and Jerry Tice were the house guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Trebelhorn, in Melbeta.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Packing the family's camping gear including the bed roll and frying pan and taking along their fishing equipment are Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Stauffer and their their children, Jimmy and Leslie. The family will be spending the long Fourth of July week end at Harlan County Reservoir.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Motoring to Greenleaf, Kan., for the Fourth of July holiday will be Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blatchley and their daughters, Juanita, Sharon, and Janelle. The Blatchley family will be the guests of Mrs. Blatchley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hatesohl, and Mr. Blatchley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Blatchley.

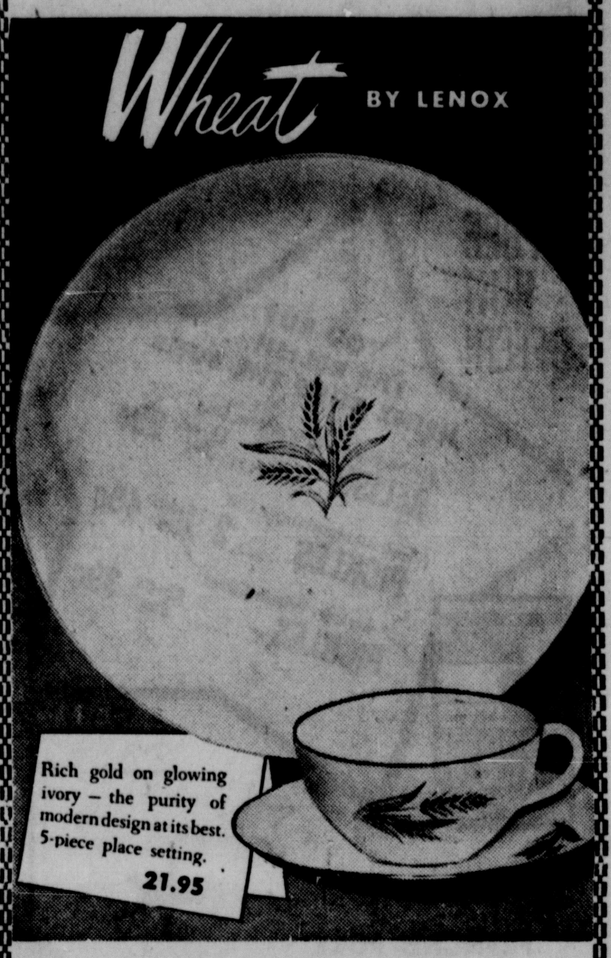

PRAIRIE VALLEY

There is much activity at 4636 Eden Circle beginning Saturday. Mrs. Jack Skalla will be hostess at a morning coffee and farewell compliment to Mrs. Gene Merrigan. Mrs. Merrigan, her husband, and son, Craig, will be moving to Omaha in the near future.

And also planning to move the middle of this new month are Mr. and Mrs. Skalla. Their new address will be 508 56th St. in Des Moines, Ia. Entertaining in farewell courtesy to the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wagner who were host and hostess at a canape party last Saturday evening at the Town and Country Restaurant.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures spell you. Gentile Sparks Orioles

. . . 2 HOMERS

Baltimore (AP) — Rookie Jim Gentile, who came in as a pinch hitter, blasted two home runs and drove in 5 runs Thursday night as the Baltimore Orioles clobbered Cleveland 9-1.

The Orioles regained second place from the Indians, opening up a game and a half margin as they broke a 3-game losing spell.

Hal (Skinny) Brown checked Cleveland on 6 hits, posting a 7-2 record, best showing on the Baltimore mound corps.

The Orioles got to starter Ted Bowsfield in the first inning when Walt Dropo drove in two runs on a single. The big first baseman also singled in the 4th, but Oriole manager Paul Richards lifted him in favor of Gentile in the 5th.

In that inning, Marv Breeding hit his 3rd homer, driving in Brown ahead of him. After one out and Jackie Brandt singled and Bowsfield, a lefthander, was replaced by righthanded Wynn Hawkins.

So Richards countered with Gentile, a southpaw swinger. The big first baseman blasted a Hawkins pitch into the bleachers, then duplicated the feat in the 7th.

His 11th and 12th homers of the season also boosted Gentile's RBI total to 54.

Sioux City Hands Chiefs 2 Defeats

. . . MANLY'S HOMERS NOT ENOUGH IN FINALE

By Don Bryant

Two mighty home runs by Manly (Shot) Johnston in the second game gave the 400 fans at Sherman Field something to yell about Thursday night.

But they weren't enough to prevent the Sioux City Soos from taking the contest, 9-7, and sweeping the damp twin bill.

The Soos, behind the 4-hit pitching of Bruce Haroldson, blanked the Chiefs, 5-0, in the first game.

Johnston's first homer—his 9th of the season—pulled the Chiefs into a 4-4 tie in the 3rd inning of the nightcap.

Never Caught Up

But the Soos hopped on Ron Woods for a trio of runs in the 5th and Lincoln never could quite catch up.

Johnston helped cut the gap to 7-6 in the 5th by poling No. 10 — a centerfield boomer with Don Buford aboard.

However, Sioux City exploded again in the 7th, getting a pair on an infield hit, Chuck Bennett's double, a walk and Virg Bernhardt's triple. This outburst came against Reliefer Bob Locker.

Johnston drove in the final Lincoln tally in the 7th when he followed Al Weis' double with a single. Soo reliefer Bob Aylmer prevented any further Chief fireworks by whiffing 6 in the final 2 2-3 innings.

Jack Bristol picked up the win, with the loss going to Woods who now has a 5-5 mark.

The Soos and the Chiefs tangle again tonight at 8 p.m. It will be "Out-Of-Town Night," with special ceremonies honoring tourists. Dick Kimball (2-4) will pitch for Lincoln.

Haroldson and reserve catcher Jim Tanner teamed to bomb the Chiefs in the first game.

Haroldson Tough

Haroldson picked by his first win by rationing 4 singles, and Tanner hit 3-run homer in the 5th and a solo shot in the 7th to account for 4 of the 5 Soo tallies.

Smoke Signals . . . Ed Szyczewski took the loss in the first game . . . Locker and Jerry Moeller relieved in both games, with Dan Osinski tossing the final inning of the nightcap . . . Lincoln outhit the Soos, 10-8, in the second game . . . Soo Chuck Bennett suffered a sprained ankle in the 7th inning of the final game when he stepped on a batting practice ball in right field while chasing Johnston's single . . . Free hot dogs were passed out after Shot's two homers . . . Lincoln has outhit the opposition 52-49 in the 6 games of the home stand — but the opposition has ripped 15 doubles, 3 triples and 6 homers, compared to the Chiefs' 4 doubles and two homers.

5 Homers Gun 10-3 Onslaught

New York (AP)— The league-leading New York Yankees hit 5 home runs, including two by Bill Skowron and one each by Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek, in a 10-3 rout of Kansas City Thursday. Ralph Terry's effective 7-hit pitching in the 85-degree heat sent the Athletics down to their 7th straight defeat.

It was the Yanks' 21st victory in 29 games in June, thanks to the slugging of Maris and Mantle. Maris hit 14 homers during the month and Mantle hit 12 of his season's total of 18.

Stuart drove in 7 of the Pirate runs. His first home run put the Pirates ahead 4-2, his second knotted the score at 5-5, and his final roundtripper put them ahead to stay.

Rookie southpaw Joe Gibbon, who relieved starter Vinegar Bend Mizell, picked up his 4th victory.

Jack Sanford beat the Pirates on 3 hits in the opener. The Giants collected 17 hits off losing pitcher Bob Friend and his successors.

Green Bay Asks For Split Season

. . . BUT PROPOSAL NOT LIKELY TO CARRY

By Bob McCoy

The Three-I League has received its first distress call of the 1960 season — a plea for another split season — but indications were Thursday night the SOS may go unanswered.

Green Bay general manager Bob Conrad issued the call for help Thursday in the form of a telegram to league front offices.

There was a familiar ring of premature urgency in the message, which said in part: "It is imperative that the Three-I League split its season if Green Bay is to survive the 1960 campaign . . ."

Conrad sighted lack of attendance, lack of interest and Green Bay's last-place standing as reasons for a split.

"New Life"

He said: "We, and several other clubs, are in a second-division position and feel we have a chance to improve in the 2nd half. A split season would give us a new lease on life, so to speak . . ."

Three-I general managers contacted by The Star Thursday night, voiced different opinions and generally doubted that the league would okay a split.

Opinion indicated that Green Bay probably wouldn't be able to draw enough league support to promote the split.

6 Votes

The Three-I moved at its regular meeting last fall to require 6 votes necessary to swing a split season. The league rule previously had been such that only a majority vote was necessary.

Lincoln, Des Moines, Topeka and Sioux City indicated Thursday night they'd definitely be against a split. Any 3 negative votes would kill the proposal.

Three-I president Vern Hoscheit, contacted in Topeka, said he hadn't been informed of Green Bay's action and therefore "nothing could be official."

Not Official

"Until my office (in Cedar Rapids) receives a request from Green Bay asking for me to poll the league on the matter, I can take no action — nor will anything Green Bay does be official," Hoscheit said, apparently miffed at the manner in which Green Bay bypassed him in its proposal.

Hoscheit said Green Bay had informed him 10 days ago that the Dodgers would finish the season. "Until I hear different from them, I'll remain confident Green Bay is in good shape," he added.

Most GM's feel Green Bay is in no worse condition than other clubs in the league—all of which have been plagued at the gate by foul weather and slumps in the standings.

Comments on the request by Three-I general managers:

Clay Dennis (Des Moines)—"Positively NO . . . a split won't solve any problems . . . I don't think the condition is this bad."

Bob Willis (Fox Cities)—"We'll go along with whatever the league wants . . . not particularly in favor since Green Bay was against us last year . . . we'll make it the rest of the year, that's for sure."

Frank Pfaff (Cedar Rapids)—"It might do some good and we won't be obstinate if it'll help the league . . . don't really think this is the answer—it hasn't been in previous years."

Eddie Kaplan (Sioux City)—"It's a good idea—in the American Assn. maybe . . . advise against."

Roger Bottorff (Lincoln)—"No, won't waste money on reply."

Art Kowalski (Topeka)—"Ridiculous . . . league rule against it . . . we wouldn't vote for a split if we were in first or last."

Francis Prior (Burlington)—"We're on the fence . . . will see what the league wants . . . it might help us."

Hyland Ousts Lehman, 1 Up

. . . SEMIFINALS SLATED TODAY

By Larry Novicki

Medalist Jean Hyland shot the best round yet in the City Women's Golf tourney at Lincoln Country Club Thursday, and she needed it to defeat Sara Lehman, 1 up.

Battling Miss Lehman and the tepid, murky weather which delayed play for 45 minutes, Mrs. Hyland put together a 41 and a fine 37 for a two-over 78. Lehman shot an 80.

Mrs. Hyland, two down at the turn, came back brilliantly with birdies on 13, 14 and 15.

She dropped 16, halved 17 and then needed an 8-foot putt on 18 for a par 4.

"My knees were shaking on that little putt," said the 4-time city champion. But her nerves were steady, and she made it for a 4. Miss Lehman needed two putts from 20 feet for a 5.

Faces Vermaas

Mrs. Hyland faces Lou Vermaas today in the semifinals. Vermaas smashed Jane Dobson, 6-5, though only 3 strokes up on score.

Giant-killing Liz Murray, who knocked out defending champion Dorothy Schwartzkopf Wednesday, stayed hot to defeat Jean Garland, 2-1.

Mrs. Murray sank a 25-foot putt on 17 to ice the match after Garland threatened to stage a comeback.

Murray faces young Phyllis Williamson, daughter of LCC pro Bud Williamson, in the semifinals today. Miss Williamson downed Carol Ostiguy 5-3. She toured the front 9 in 40 strokes.

3 Winners

Three winners were decided in Thursday's action. Paula Parrish won the 18-hole 6th flight consolation prize by defeating Thelma Miller, 1 up, and winning her last match by default over Marge Vosta, who can't play today.

In the junior division Jan Jennings won the first flight consolation prize unopposed.

Mary Schneider grabbed the 3rd flight crown in the 9-hole division by downing Birdene Hobbs, 1 up on 10 holes.

—100 GRAND PROPOSAL TO MEET SUGAR RAY—

$ Offers Flood Fullmer

Salt Lake City (AP) — Money offers, topped by a $100,000-plus guarantee to fight Sugar Ray Robinson here this fall, poured in on middleweight champion Gene Fullmer Thursday.

Winner by a 12th round technical knockout over veteran Carmen Basilio, the 28-year-old West Jordan, Utah church elder and his manager, Marv Jenson, sat back to await propositions.

They came fast at a news conference, several hours after the defeated Basilio reiterated that he is not at this time thinking of retiring.

Joe Dupler, wealthy mink rancher and president of the Intermountain Boxing Club, said he would guarantee Fullmer "more than $100,000" to fight Sugar Ray for the NBA version of the championship.

"Sure, I'd like to fight Robinson," said Fullmer, who whipped and then lost the middleweight crown to the Harlem dandy in 1957.

Could Robinson be lured West?

"He likes money," Fullmer observed solemnly.

The Dupler bid topped a $100,000 guarantee wired by Benny Ford of San Francisco for a Fullmer-Joey Giambra title affair.

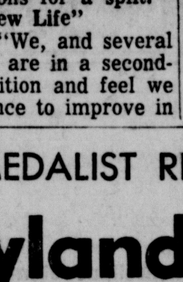

Jenson said Fullmer's income tax problems must be solved before anything is decided about another match in 1960.

Rothschild said he might try to lease Madison Square Garden for a New York match between Fullmer and Paul Pender of Boston.

Pender is recognized in New York and Massachusetts as the 160-pound division champion.

Fullmer, who whipped Pender in 1955, said he would "like to fight him anywhere—but Boston."

U.S.A. 'Diplomats'

Ike may have junked "personal diplomacy" in his realm of world affairs, but the United States will have a fine collection of young men in action this weekend—all of them trying to become ambassadors to Rome.

The occasion is the Olympic Trials at Palo Alto, Calif., today and Saturday.

And make no mistake, the qualifiers for Rome will be dealing in "personal diplomacy" at the grass roots level during the Olympics. These youngsters will undoubtedly win friends for Uncle Sam—as they have done in past Olympics—just because they're nice kids with tremendous athletic ability.

Like it or not, the U.S. delegation also will become active participants in the Cold War. The Olympics, unfortunately have become a propaganda playground in the struggle between the U.S. and Russia. It's unfair to the athletes, but they don't seem to mind.

Big 8 Drama

Big 8 track and field products will be playing key roles in the Olympic qualifying. Several are likely to make the team, while others can have a bearing on various entries.

Best Big 8 bets for a ticket to Rome are Bill Alley of Kansas in the javelin, J. D. Martin of Oklahoma and J. D. Graham of Oklahoma State in the pole vault, Bill Nieder of Kansas in the shot put, Al Oerter of KU in the discus,

SOX TRIP NATS 4-2 IN 10TH

Washington (AP) — Chicago hopped on Tex Clevenger for two runs in the 10th inning Thursday night for a 4-2 victory that snapped a 5-game Washington win streak.

Clevenger had replaced starter Pedro Ramos, who went out for a pinch hitter in the 8th after retiring the last 15 White Sox batters in order. Chicago was hitless from the 5th to the 10th innings.

Washington's Jim Lemon hit his 18th home run in the 6th with none on base.

Russ Kemmerer, who won his 4th victory against 4 defeats, shut out his former teammates on one hit in 3 1-3 innings of relief pitching.

Cliff Cushman of KU in the 400-meter hurdles, Teddy Woods of Colorado in the 400-meters and Jayhawk Charlie Tidwell in the sprints.

Woods rates as the top darkhorse after his explosive NCAA victory when he peddled the metric quartermile in :45.7.

Tidwell, with a world record tying :10.1 to his 100-meter credit, should land one of the spots unless an injury sidelines him. Alley has been all by himself in the javelin, posting a new intercollegiate record of 273-10½ recently.

Oerter ranks as the top discus thrower with a 193-9½ to his credit.

Bad Luck

Martin may have a tough time making the team since he suffered an injury after soaring 15-9¾. Graham is a consistant 15-footer.

Top interest in the meet will center on the shot put where the finest field in history is gathered. Neider, now with the Army but formerly with the Jayhawks, is the No. 1 man with a world record 65-7 to his credit.

But two-time Olympic champion Perry O'Brien, Dallas Long of USC and Dave Davis are also on hand and all have bettered 63-5.

Other Big 8 qualifiers—with their best marks—include Don Meyer of Colorado in th broad jump (25-0); Aubrey Dooley of Oklahoma State in the pole vault (15-2½); Ken Floerke, former Kansan, in the hop-step and jump (48-5); Dick Cochran of Missouri in the discus (188-10); Terry Boucher of KU in the javelin (245-7); Dee Givens of Oklahoma in the 200-meters (:21.3); Woods of Colorado in the 200 (:21.1); DeLoss Dodds, ex-Kansas State, in the 400-meters (:46.6); Bob Tague of KU in the 800-meters (1:57.1); Bill Dotson of KU in the 1,500-meters (3:44.8); Bob Hanneken of Missouri (14:48.8) and Miles Eisenman of O-State (14:36.1) in the 5,000 meters.

The eyes of the world will be focused on the U. S. track team from now through the Olympics. And judging from the talent supply, the Yanks won't be a bunch of head-hangers.

Bill Honnor was the main cog in the Lawlor's attack. He struck out 13, walked only 3, and hit a single and a double to drive in two runs.

Bill Redmond allowed only 5 hits and 3 earned runs as he fell victim to his teammates fielding flaws.

DODGERS WIN 10-6 FOR 4TH

Philadelphia (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers touched off a 5-run rally in the 5th inning to come from behind and beat the Philadelphia Phillies for the 3rd straight time, 10-6, and move into 4th place in the National League.

A roaring throng of 20,859, including Vice President Richard Nixon and his wife sat in on a hitting show at Connie Mack Stadium.

Charlie Neal and Maury Wills each drove in 3 runs for the Dodgers, who belabored 3 Phillies pitchers for 14 safeties.

The Dodgers started Danny McDevitt and used Ed Palmquist before righthander Ed Roebuck came on in the 4th inning—with a 5-4 deficit—to quiet the Phillies and land his 6th mound triumph.

Righthander Jim Owens took the rap for the defeat.

4 U.S. Eights Reach Regatta's Quarterfinals

Henley-On-Thames, England (AP) — Two crews from Harvard, Kent School of Connecticut and the Detroit Boat Club Thursday rowed into the quarter-finals of the Thames Challenge Cup competition of the Henley Royal Regatta.

By the luck of the draw, the Americans face each other today. Harvard's unbeaten lightweights, seeking their 3rd straight Thames Cup triumph, take on the heavier Kent 8. Detroit meets Eliot House of Harvard, a pickup crew put together only in the last month.

Harvard's smooth and powerful 155-pounders, stroked by veteran Tony Goodman of Brooklyn, racked up their 28th consecutive victory over a 3-year span by beating the London Rowing Club.

Kent, averaging 168 pounds a man, defeated another American crew—Washington and Lee High School of Arlington, Va.—by about 20 feet.

Eliot House, using a borrowed boat and borrowed oars, beat the Kingston Rowing Club of Britain by a half length in 6:59.

Detroit eliminated Britain's Midland Bank Rowing Club.

Olympic Team Berths Are Weekend Stakes

...NATION'S BEST READY FOR STANFORD TRIALS

Stanford, Calif. (AP) — Uncle Sam's best track and field stars, including 8 who won 1956 gold medals in Australia, match speed and strength today and Saturday for coveted places on the United States Olympic team.

Some of those 8 stars of 4 years ago may not even qualify for this year's team in competition rated the toughest ever.

"Heartbreaks will be plentiful here on Saturday night," forecast Larry Snyder, the Ohio State coach who heads this nation's Olympic track and field forces.

"The competition is the best it's ever been—ours and in every other country with perhaps only one or two exceptions."

Seeking to defend Olympic titles are Parry O'Brien in the shot put; discus thrower Al Oerter, hammer thrower Harold Connolly, broad jumper Greg Bell, high jumper Charlie Dumas, 200-meter sprinter Bobby Morrow, 400-meter hurdler Glenn Davis and 110-meter high hurdler Lee Calhoun.

Only Connolly, Oerter and Davis are strong favorites in the competition among qualifiers from the Armed Forces, colleges and national AAU.

Davis, former Ohio State star now a junior high school teacher, typifies the veteran.

He started training before Christmas, survived injuries, and only now appears to be rounding into top shape. He won the Olympic title in 50.1 sconds, but declared, "I think it will take a 49.8 to win here and the field is tougher than in 1956."

Veterans made up 25% of the field, with collegians predominating.

"You have to admire these older fellows," says Snyder. They've come here in top condition despite having to hold down jobs to support families. They had to work out after their jobs were finished."

Competition in the sprints appears close all the way with Ray Norton, the AAU king, and NCAA champion Charlie Tidwell of Kansas favorites.

Gerry's Win 2; Monosmith No Hits Grant

Lincoln Star Special

Grant—Gerry's Sport Shop got some fine pitching from Darold Monosmith and Mickey Snider Thursday night as it wound up its western road trip with wins over Ogallala and Grant in a twi-night doubleheader.

Monosmith hurled a no-hitter in the 7-1 victory over Grant. Snider allowed only one blow as Gerry's lambasted Ogallala in the night cap 18-4.

Gary Powell was the spearhead against Grant, picking up 3 hits in 4 trips to the plate.

Harold Monosmith, Steve Nimocks, Bob Knight and Jody Moser each picked up two hits in the shabby Ogallala game.

Snider whiffed 16 in the 7-inning afair.

Gerry's record stands at 11-3 as the tired ball club swings home for a day before traveling to Norfolk Saturday night.

Tranquilizers 'Going To The Dogs'

By Roger Wait

World politics may seem to be going to the dogs, but tranquilizers definitely are not.

They're going to the horses, pigs, cows, monkeys and raccoons, too.

A comparatively recent development, tranquilizers help in treatment of animals, agree Lincoln veterinarians, who say that local and general anesthetics have proved inadequate in some types of treatment.

The soothing dosages help especially when an animal only needs to be calmed to get minor injuries patched up.

Tranquilizers are available for animals only by veterinary prescription and the only suppliers are pharmaceutical companies.

Each variety is limited to use with a particular species or breed. But while Rover gets his share, other animals get theirs, too.

In Lincoln's zoo, a grouchy chimpanzee prone to spitting water at on-lookers is a candidate for tranquilizing.

Cattle being shipped to feedlots and heifers on 4-H display frequently get dosed to put them at ease.

And Nebraska wild animals are downed with state game commission tranquilizer guns so horns can be trimmed, feet examined and bodies inspected for disease.

One Lincoln family's pet raccoon, when tranquilized, overcomes its dislike of strangers and riding in cars.

Horses that run afoul of barbed-wire fences are mended more easily after their jittery nerves are soothed. Training colts to race becomes less difficult.

Man's best friend, the dog, still dominates the pet population figures. Therefore, faithful Fido gets tranquilized the most.

The smaller the dog, it seems, the more likely it is to get upset. Diminutive breeds get more tranquilizers than the larger types.

A Lincoln couple could never step out but what their dachshund got bothered. Now they keep their long low pooch happy with a tranquilizer pill each time they leave the house.

Frequent pill chompers are Chihuahuas, wire-haired terriers and toy poodles.

Tranquilizers, the vets say, give Rover a "feeling of euphoria, or well-being."

They're used a lot to keep down canine car sickness, boost poise for shows and make an injured pooch quit feeling sorry for himself so he can be treated.

Rug-chewing puppies given the drug, turn to other energy outlets.

And desensitized dogs will just lay there and wag their tails while their teeth are pulled — all without benefit of a local anesthetic.

Best example of the boon tranquilizers are is the Boxer with a 3-year record of epileptic fits. Its master wouldn't part with the dog, so it got the pills and had no more fits.

Landowners Ask Reversal In Water Suit

Attorneys for 4 landowners near Kearney asked the State Supreme Court Thursday to reverse the Buffalo County District Court in a water drainage case.

Osborne and Ethel Turnell, Blanche Snider and Bruno Miller brought the suit for injunctive relief against Mabel C. Mahlin, Milton Webb and Wayne Webb.

The plaintiffs contended that construction of an earthen dike and other activities of the defendants changed the natural flow of runoff water to the damage of plaintiff's lands.

The lands involved are located 10 miles west of Kearney, about two miles north of the Platte River.

The district court last November found against the plaintiffs and dismissed the petition, whereupon the plaintiffs appealed.

"Nature's drainage has been tampered with, seriously and deliberately," attorneys for plaintiffs said Thursday in a brief filed with the supreme court.

Plaintiffs "have been damaged and will continue to be damaged until corrected by judicial decree," the brief added.

Ferguson State Demo College Coordinator

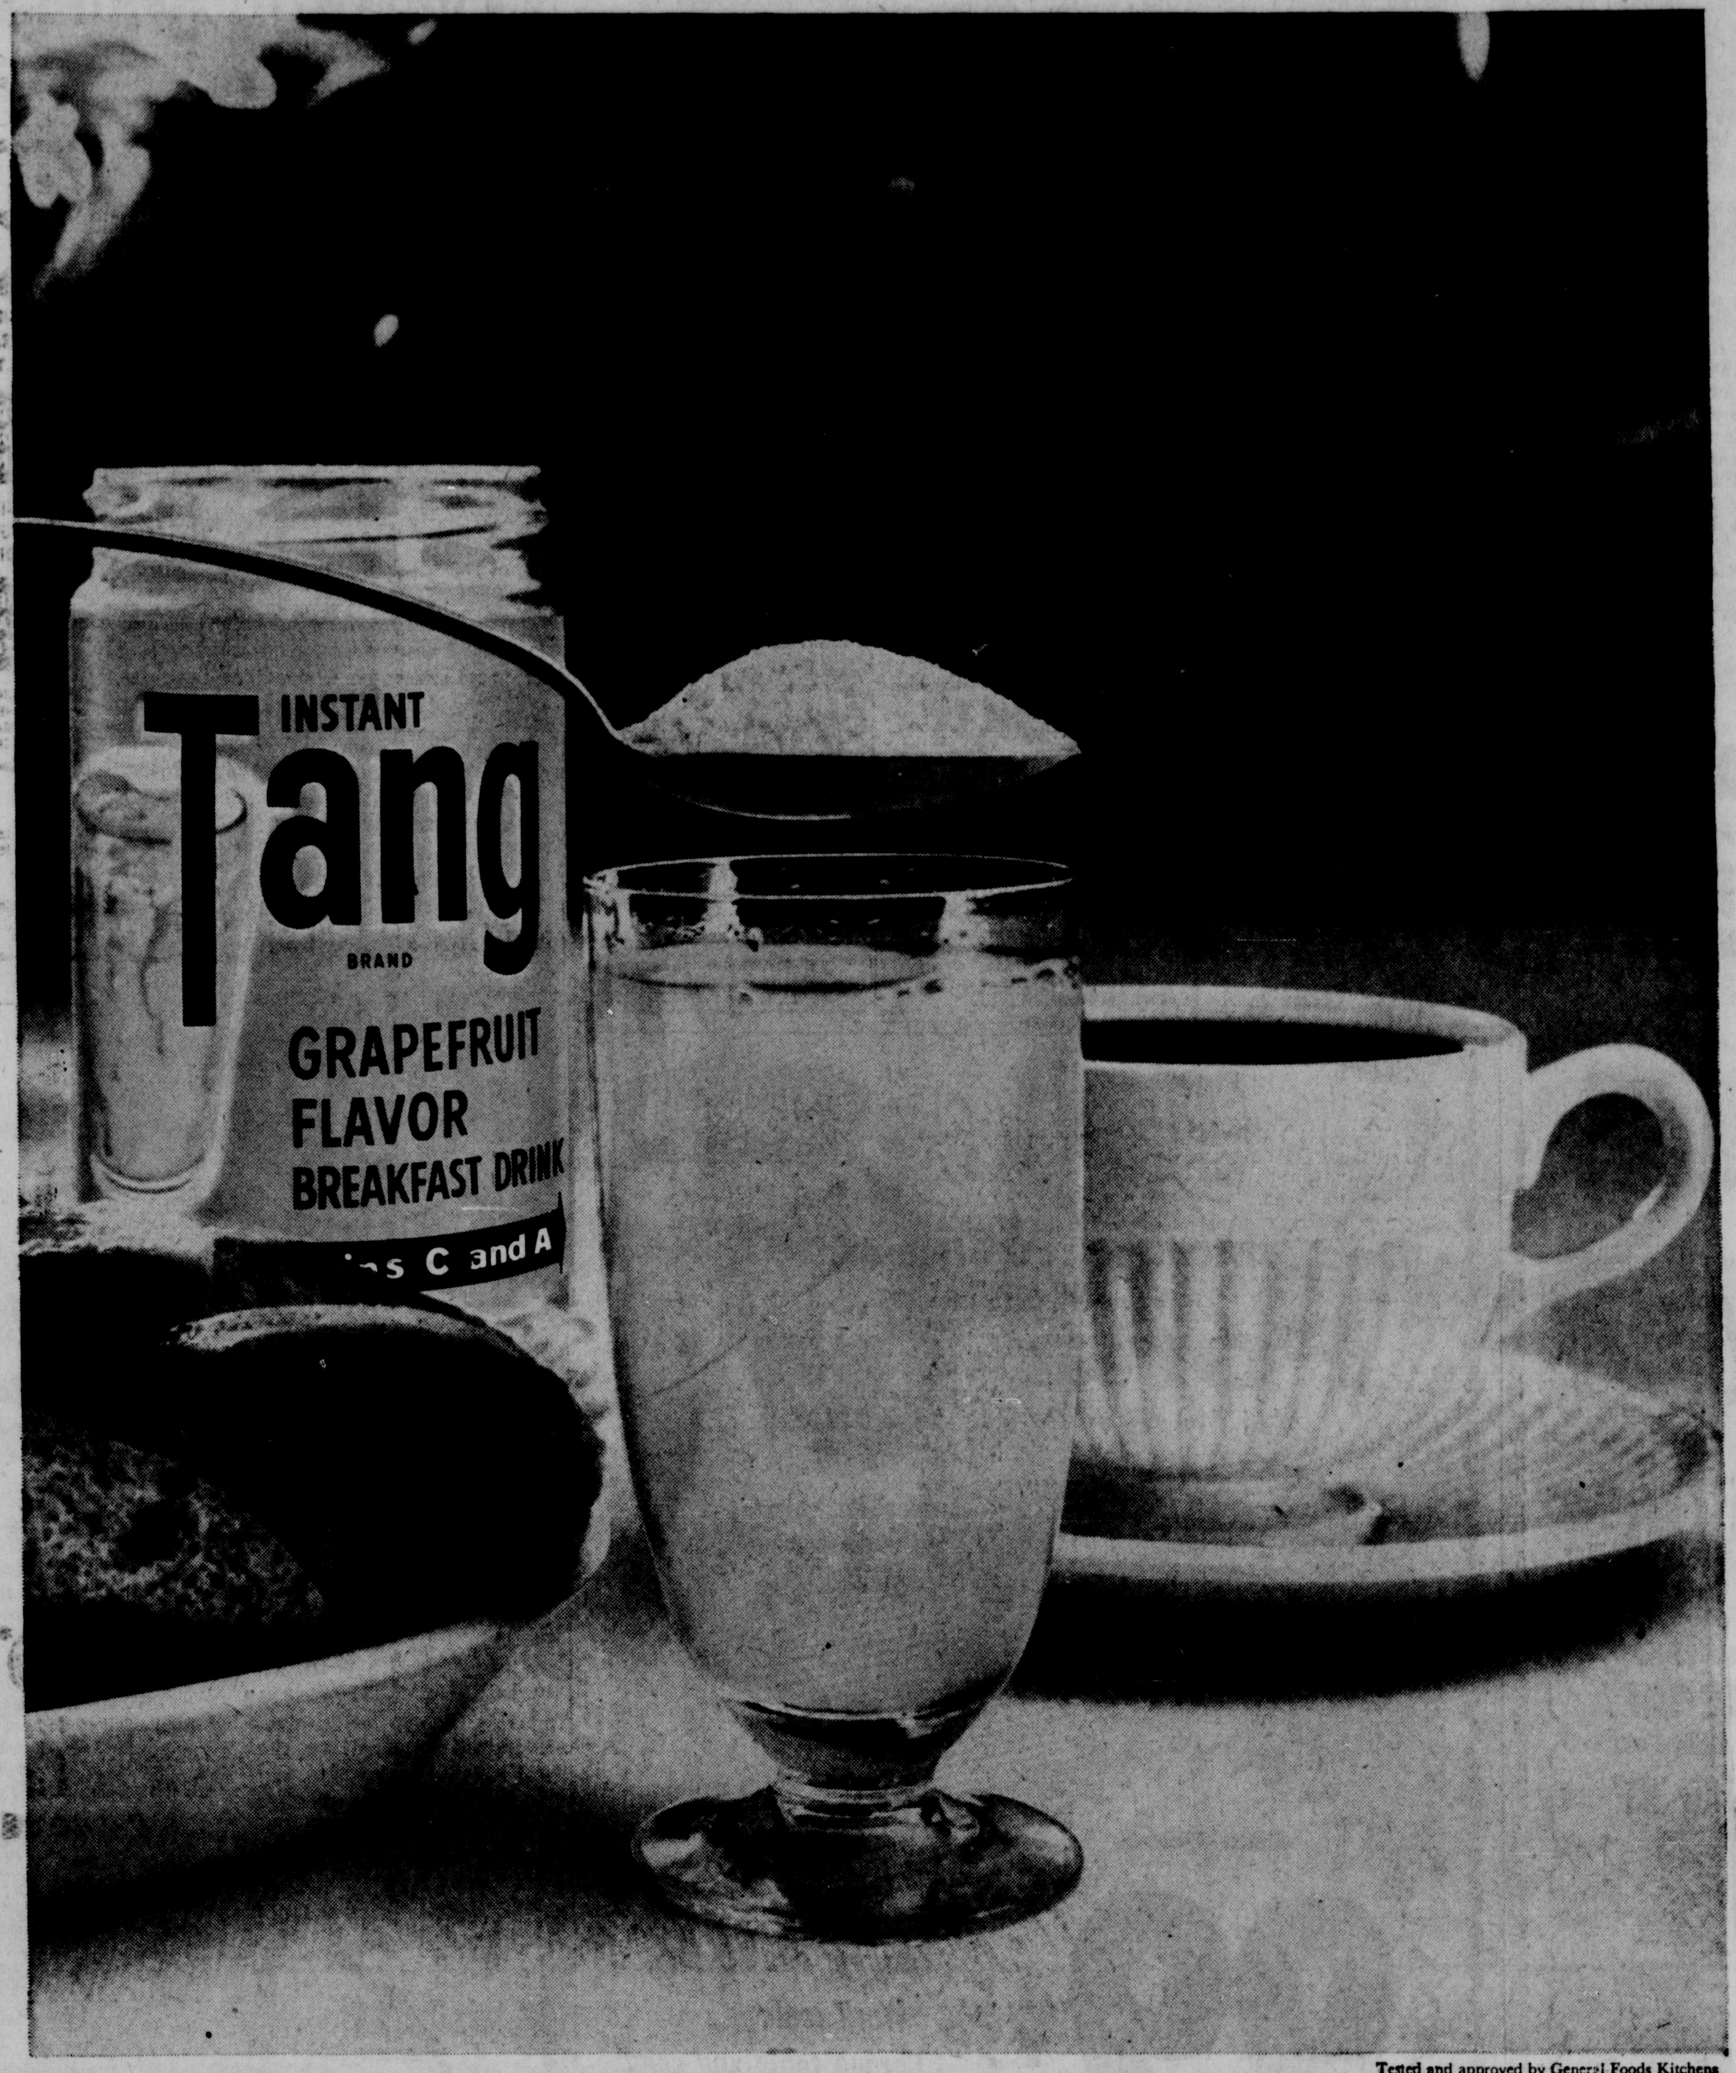

Donald Ferguson, president of the University of Nebraska Young Democrats, is the new state college coordinator for Nebraska, party officials announced Thursday.

Ferguson's appointment will remain effective until the state Democratic convention in August, at which time the Nebraska College Young Democrats will complete their organization structure and elect state officers.

Ashburn, Banks Reach Milestones, Cubs Win

Chicago (AP)—Richie Ashburn got his No. 2,300 hit and Ernie Banks his 250th home run as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Milwaukee Braves 11-5 Thursday.

The Cubs, earning a 2-2 split of the series against the second placers, put the game out of reach with a 5-run 6th inning when 7 of 10 batters hit safely, sending Lew Burdette to his 4th loss.

Ashburn had a perfect day at the plate with 4 straight hits before walking in the 7th and 8th innings.

Winning pitcher Don Cardwell also stroked 4 straight hits, all singles, in recording his 4th victory, his 3rd since joining Chicago.

Banks slammed his 22nd homer with one on in the 6th. The drive off Don McMahon, Burdette's replacement, was the slugging shortstop's 12th homer in June.

Banks had 3 runs batted in during the game for a seasonal total of 65, 32 of which were recorded during his June spree.

Chicago outfielders Bob Will and Danny Murphy, the 17-year-old $125,000 bonus signee, collided chasing Hank Aaron's long liner as Milwaukee launched its first scoring spree in the 4th.

Aaron's liner fell for a triple, scoring Eddie Mathews with Murphy sprawled on the turf. Murphy walked off the field under his own power some minutes later with a cracked tooth and several others that were loosened. His jaw hit Will's knee in the crash.

Piersall Returns To Tribe Next Monday

Boston (AP) — Jim Piersall, colorful Cleveland Indians centerfielder who took a week's rest on a doctor's orders, plans to return to American League action next Monday.

The fiery competitor plans to rejoin his team in Cleveland for the 4th of July—ready to play in a doubleheader against Kansas City.

Dr. Don Kelly, the Indian's team physician, advised a rest last Sunday after Piersall was ejected from the second game of a doubleheader with the Yankees in Cleveland.

Piersall previously had received permission to fly home for a brief visit with his family in suburban Newton and did not know of the doctor's orders until he alighted from a plane here.

Jim spent most of the week resting and playing with his 7 children. He visited his own doctor—and later talked with Cleveland's general manager Frank Lane.

Piersall and his doctor gave him the okay to report right away. "But," the 30-year-old outfielder added, "I'm willing to go along with the decision of Mr. Lane and Dr. Kelly that I join the club when it returns home on the holiday."

Lane wired Piersall, saying it would be satisfactory for him to return to action, and suggesting he bring his wife along "as she seems to have a better influence on you than anyone I can think of."

Jim—who suffered a nervous breakdown in 1952 while with the Red Sox—had been at odds with umpires since May and has argued with opposing players.

Boston Captures Goofy Swingfest

Boston (AP) — Boston shortstop Don Buddin faked catcher Red Wilson off his feet and scampered home with the winning run Thursday as the Red Sox defeated Detroit 11-7 in a weird 8th inning.

Six runs resulted in the big Boston 8th when 10 men went to the plate—overshadowing two homers by Rocky Colavito and one by Eddie Yost which accounted for all the Tiger tallies plus Ted Williams' 505th homer for the Sox.

Pinchhitter Rip Repulski had singled to tie the score 7-7 and Willie Tasby had sacrificed the base runners to second and 3rd to set up the winning play.

Pete Runnels tapped a roller to the left side as Buddin broke off third base. Tiger shortstop Chico Fernandez fired to Wilson who went to his knees blocking the plate.

Buddin, almost home, stopped short, turned and headed back for third with Wilson in hot pursuit. Wilson, a star football linebacker at Wisconsin noted for his ability to haul down his man, stumbled and fell to his knees.

Buddin made a swivel-hipped twist to the infield side of the base path, burst around Wilson and outfooted pitcher Clem Labine to the plate to score the run.

The red in Wilson's thinning hair colored his face and back as he rushed at third base umpire Hank Soar. Wilson claimed Buddin had run out of the base path.

Giants File Suit Against Chargers

Los Angeles, (AP)—The New York Giants aren't through in their efforts to prevent Mississippi football star Charley Flowers from playing for the Los Angeles Chargers.

The National Football League Club, which recently lost one court battle to keep Flowers out of the Charger ranks, filed another suit in U.S. District Court here.

The new action charges conspiracy and asks $250,000 damages from the Chargers, Los Angeles entry in the new American Football League.

GILES DROPS DOUBLEHEADER

Cincinnati (AP)—The squabble over a Pittsburgh-Philadelphia postponed game ended Thursday with agreement that only one game will be played between the teams on Sunday, July 10 at Philadelphia.

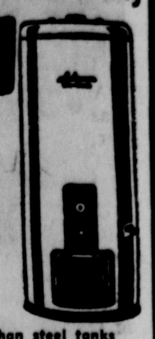

Player representatives had protested against a doubleheader on that day, following a night game on Saturday.

It was a reversal of a previous decision by Warren C. Giles, National League president.

The game in question—postponed on June 9—will be played as a part of a twi-nighter at Philadelphia on Sept. 20.

NU Young GOP Club In Top 6

The University of Nebraska Young Republican Club has been selected as one of the top 6 college YR clubs in the United States.

Announcement of the award was made by William A. Steiger, chairman of the National College Service Committee of Young Republicans.

Other YR clubs chosen as outstanding include organizations at Harvard, Stanford, Brigham Young, Washington State and College of Wooster of Ohio.

The NU club was chosen from more than 450 college units with 10,000 members.

Jan Rhoda of York is president of NU YR's.

Republican State Chairman Charles Thone said he was "not surprised" at the recognition.

"Inspired Elders"

"University of Nebraska Young Republicans and other college YR's of Nebraska have inspired their elders by their interest and hard work," Thone said.

The citation for the NU club praised the group for "providing the spark that set up a state college organization."

A membership of more than 200 was also mentioned as a reason for singling out the NU organization.

Study Group On Broadening Tax Base Meets Today

A committee studying the possibility of a broadened tax base in Nebraska will meet again Friday, according to Ervin Peterson, committee chairman.

Fred Herrington, executive director of the Nebraska Citizens Council, and Dr. E. B. Schmidt, University of Nebraska economics professor, will discuss various tax problems at the meeting.

The committee has not yet come to any conclusions concerning the matter, Peterson said.

Representatives from such groups as the Farm Bureau, the State Grange, realtors, builders, State School Boards Assn., Fair Tax Assn., Nebraska State Education Assn., and labor will be on hand for the session.

ECONOMY IN TROUBLE?-

Oil Squeeze Put On Cuba

... WEST SLASHES SUPPLY

From Press Reports

Havana—The Western nations began cutting off their supply of oil to Cuba Thursday in the start of a huge squeeze play which could make expropriation of foreign property boomerang against the Cuban economy.

Cuba seized the $20 million Texaco oil refinery Wednesday.

Oil circles said the American Standard Oil Company was joining the British-Dutch Shell Company in refusing to import any more oil into Cuba because the government is reported to owe $67 million for oil brought in during the past year.

Refusal would force the government's quick intervention and probably provoke a major oil crisis. Cuba's economy—its sugar mills, factories, transportation—depends on oil to keep going, and a critical situation could develop immediately.

Oil experts said the Cubans could operate all the foreign refineries, particularly if they had help from behind the Iron Curtain, but it was believed unlikely Russia could rush in sufficient technicians to keep things going.

Process Russ Oil

Meanwhile, the confiscated Texaco Oil Co. refinery in Santiago de Cuba began processing Russian crude oil. The semiofficial newspaper Revolucion hailed the action as a sign the 25-million dollar plant is no longer foreign-owned.

Probable next targets of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's campaign against the United States and "foreign monopolies" are the 26-million dollar British-Dutch Shell Oil Co. refinery; the Esso Standard of New Jersey refinery; the Cuban Electric Co., the largest remaining American investment in Cuba, and the 125-million dollar Cuban Telephone Co. in which the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co. owns 65% of the stock. Castro officials have been in charge of Cuban telephones since March 1959, but have not officially taken over.

Executives of Esso and Shell, who followed Texaco's example in refusing to refine Russian crude, said it appeared a matter of days—perhaps hours—before their plants also would be seized by the Cuban Petroleum Institute.

Goin Resigns East Lincoln Christian Post

The congregation also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Iva Blacker, assistant to the minister, who will assume a similar post with the Rev. Raymond Alber, former East Lincoln Church pastor, now at North Dade Christian Church, Miami, Fla.

Dale Eaton was re-elected as chairman of the 1,300 member congregation in its annual meeting, and a new budget of $62,653 was adopted.

Earl Anderson was elected vice chairman, Mrs. Ray Ailes, clerk, and Mrs. Eugene Newburn, official board secretary.

Handling church funds are: Mrs. James Maxwell, financial secretary; Jack Heilman, general fund treasurer; Mrs. Roscoe Ward, mission fund treasurer.

Elders: Warren Cookson, Jack Heilman, James Maxwell, Walter Morton, Fred Whipple and George Wolfe.

Good Shots

K. Greeting In Austria Polite, Cool

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev got a polite but frosty reception from the Viennese Thursday on his arrival for a 9-day state visit.

Police estimated hardly more than 10,000 persons in this capital city of 1,700,000 turned out to see the Soviet premier.

Khrushchev received nothing like the warm reception these same people gave the Shah of Iran a few weeks ago. Except for a few cheering squads of Austrian communists, the Viennese were apathetic and a little bored.

'Lays Egg'

The 66-year-old Russian leader may be able to work up some enthusiasm during later stages of his visit to Vienna and the provinces. But as to the first day, his tour—in the theatrical sense—has laid an egg.

He spoke in a flat voice of his support for the "principles of peaceful coexistence" and walked deadpan through the official program arranged for him. With some of his usual bounce draining away, he laid wreaths and drove behind a wedge of motorcycle policemen through empty or thinly lined streets.

For a man accustomed to the turnout of millions, the streets of this old capital on the Danube must have seemed strangely empty. The explanations were obvious.

Bishops of this predominantly Roman Catholic country reminded church members last weekend that Khrushchev heads an atheistic state.

Hearts Are West's

It also was clear that Austria, lying alongside the Iron Curtain, is neutral only in the military sense. The hearts of its citizens belong to the West.

At a luncheon party Austrian President Adolf Schaerf reminded Khrushchev of Austria's determination to exist in the manner of Sweden and Switzerland.

Schaerf said he agreed with the possible coexistence of capitalist and communist systems and declared: "We are determined to protect and defend our neutrality, the integrity of our territory and our independence with our own power."

Bank Clearings Here First Half Of '60 Show Drop

Bank clearings in Lincoln declined $44,268,695.18 the first six months of this year compared with the clearings from January through June a year ago.

The decline does not reflect upon the business done in the city, but rather pertains to the lower requirement of check handling by banks because of the consolidation of the First National and Continental National banks last March, reducing Lincoln downtown banks from 3 to 2.

Clearings represent the interbank transactions required to route a check from the person who draws it to the bank where he maintains his deposit.

Recent Federal Reserve Bank reporting credits Lincoln banks with greater deposits than a year ago.

Clearing house figures lists clearings from January through June 1959 for Lincoln banks at $305,640,407.74. The total for the corresponding period in 1960 was $261,371,712.56.

June 1960 clearings were $37,320,886.98 in contrast with June 1959 clearings of $51,617,366.49.

May 1960 clearings were $41,456,604.18.

State High Court Asked To Stay Wilson Execution

. . . OMAHAN SENTENCED TO DIE SEPT. 23 FOR 1958 SLAYING

The Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday was asked to stay the Sept. 23 execution of Luther Wesley Wilson of Omaha.

Wilson was convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair for the 1958 slaying of Raymond Rasmussen of Omaha during a liquor store robbery.

On May 27, the supreme court affirmed the conviction in Douglas County District Court and set his execution date for Sept. 23.

A motion for a rehearing is still pending before the supreme court.

Wilson's attorneys filed a motion for an order staying the issuance of the execution mandate. They intend to prosecute certiorari proceedings in the U.S. Supreme Court.

The grounds listed for the appeal were based on several questions concerning federal constitutional rights of Wilson.

His attorneys claim these rights were violated.

Wilson's attorneys said the due process clause of the 14th U.S. Amendment was violated by the use of alleged oral confessions obtained from Wilson after his arrest.

They called these confessions "involuntary" since the right to consult with counsel was denied both to Wilson and his counsel.

They argued in the motion that Wilson was denied the right to a fair and impartial trial when the state was allowed to impeach its rebuttal witness "to get highly prejudicial inadmissable matter to the jury."

They also said Wilson was deprived constitutional rights claiming the trial jury based their death penalty recommendation on the "false assumption" that paroles are too easy to get in Nebraska.

The motion argued misconduct of the prosecutor, particularly in his closing argument and contended an abuse of discretion by the district court in Douglas County.

AVERAGE PUPIL HIGH SCHOOL COST $343 TO $967

The average cost of putting a pupil through one year of high school in Nebraska cities and towns with K-12 school districts varies from $343 to $967, the State Department of Education reported Thursday.

The statistics and many others were compiled by the Department's Statistical Services Section into a booklet on per-pupil costs.

The study included 402 K-12 districts — offering Kindergarten through 12th grade—but Omaha and Lincoln districts were not included because they are so much larger than other districts that "comparison is hardly significant," said W. A. Schindler, director of the section. The study covered only the 1958-59 school year.

197 Have 200 Pupils

The cost of elementary school education in the same districts ranged from $224 to $391 per pupil per year, the booklet said. The costs included total current expenses plus depreciation of the plant and 10 per cent of the capital outlay of the general fund.

During 1958-59, there were 197 K-12 districts in Nebraska with enrollment of 200 or more. These districts, which number less than half the total, enroll seven-eights of the pupils in Nebraska. The remaining 207 K-12 distiricts enroll only one-eighth of the pupils of the state.

Other statistics:

The average per-pupil cost of secondary education in these 197 K-12 districts was $403.25, compared with $619.39 for the remaining 207 smaller districts.

The elementary cost in the largest 197 districts averaged $235.58 and for the 207 smallest $285.78.

"Thus, the variation from larger to smaller districts is much greater for secondary school education than it is in grade school education," Schindler said.

Small School Cost High

The average cost of high school education among the 24 rural and county high schools of the state ranged from $572 per pupil for the largest to $950 for the smallest.

There were 3,082 Class I school districts in Nebraska in 1958-59, providing Kindergarten through the eighth grade only. Of these, 2,764 were one-teacher schools; 269 were two and three teacher schools, and 49 had 4 or more.

The per-pupil costs in the one-teacher rural schools varied from $240.83 in Sarpy County, to a high of $577.15 in Garden County.

Garden County has 20 one-teacher rural schools with a low pupil-teacher ratio of 6.7 pupils per teacher. Sarpy County had only two one-teacher rural schools, with an average of 16 pupils per teacher.

For the state as a whole, the average cost in one-teacher rural schools was $314.87 per pupil per year.

"The average number of pupils taught per teacher is the major factor in determining the cost per pupil," Schindler said. "This is true not only among the one-teacher rural schools, but it is equally true among the K-12 school districts."

Giant Newspaper Union Possibility Under Study

Chicago (AP)— The American Newspaper Guild, reporting its membership growth held down by job losses in newspaper mergers, Thursday authorized exploration of a possible merger with shop unions into a giant newspaper union.

The guild, representing white-collar employes in editorial and advertising departments and some circulation and mailing room workers, unanimously adopted a resolution by its organizing committee calling for a specific plan by the 1961 convention.

The shop unions include typographical workers, stereotypers, photoengravers and pressmen.

A committee report cited several instances of joint cooperation between newspaper unions last year, including coordination of the current Portland, Ore., newspapers strike under a single director.

The committee also noted agreement by guild officers and officers of the International Typographical Union as to "the immediate need for commitment among unions in our field to the principle of unity and the will to work for its accomplishment."

The report said the International Printing Pressmen and guild officers also agreed "that their organization should have as their objective a single organization of all workers in the printing, paper and related industries and that they will call upon their members to implement and support this objective."

Some members of the committee expressed doubts as to the possible merger. They suggested that co-operation, rather than unity, be the first objective.

Damon Runyan Fund Check To UN

Presenting a $9,200 check to the University of Nebraska Foundation from the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for cancer study is Dr. Mylan Kopac (second from right), New York University professor and native Nebraskan. Receiving the check are: (from left) Perry W. Branch, Foundation director-secretary; John K. Selleck of Lincoln, Foundation president; and Dr. Donald M. Pace, director of the Nebraska Institute for Cellular Growth.

NU Gets $9,200 Grant From Cancer Fund

The Damon Runyon Memorial Fund has awarded a $9,200 grant to the University of Nebraska for a project at the University's Institute for Cellular Growth, Walter Winchell of New York, treasurer, announced this week. The grant was given through the University of Nebraska Foundation.

The project, under the direction of Dr. Donald M. Pace, will involve an attempt to establish a new strain of non-malignant human cells for the study of cancer.

Dr. Pace, head of the University Institute and professor of physiology, said there is a shortage of non-malignant cell strains. "There are several well-known strains of cells now being used by different investigators. However, since most, if not all, normal cells become malignant when cultivated in vitro it becomes necessary to isolate new non-malignant lines from time to time to use along with known malignant strains."

Isolated Cell

He said that the project will involve isolating one single non-malignant cell. And in order to do this, hundreds of cells must be used to obtain one that will survive and reproduce.

Presenting the money to the University Foundation was Dr. Mylan Kopac, professor of biology at New York University and a member of the board of directors of the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund. A native of Ravenna, Dr. Kopac earned both his bachelor and master's degrees at the University of Nebraska.

Carroll Cool To Combined Jail Study

Police Chief Joe Carroll had little to say Thursday about a proposal by the Chamber of Commerce that a combined city-county jail might be located in the Municipal Building which also houses the police station.

The chamber is considering asking California criminologist Harold Robinson, who investigated local law enforcement handling of the Charles Starkweather murder case in 1958, to come to Lincoln to determine the merits of such a plan.

The combined jail would be located in space to be vacated when the City-County Health Dept. moves to a proposed county convalescent hospital.

Local Investigator

Chief Carroll commented that although he has a high regard for Robinson's experience he is convinced that if such a study is to be made there are sufficient competent individuals in the city of Lincoln who are qualified to make the study.

The chamber proposal apparently would rule out present plans to house a combined city-county jail in the proposed City-County Building which will be voted on next year.

County Sheriff Merle Karnopp, who is in charge of the county jail, is out of the state and was unavailable for comment.

Omaha-Lincoln Fare Hike Is Granted United

. . . CAB Increase Brings Change

The Nebraska Railway Commission reported Thursday it has granted fare increases to United Air Lines for the Omaha-Lincoln flight.

An increase of 2½ per cent plus one dollar was approved, effective June 30, making the one-way fare $6.80 and the round trip $12.60. Commission officials said the increase was in line with a recent interstate increase granted by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

In other action, the commission denied an application by Mrs. Edward Strizek and others of Valparaiso for authority to establish "extended area service" between the Lincoln Telephone exchange and Valparaiso.

The extended area service would have eliminated toll charges for Valparaiso-Lincoln calls.

The transfer of properties, franchises and exchanges from the Benkelman Telephone Co., a sole proprietorship, to the Benkelman Telephone Co., Inc., was granted, effective July 1.

The application by the National Bus Traffic Assn., Inc., for authority to extend the national round trip furlough fare from July 31, 1960, to Jan. 31, 1961, was granted, effective July 31.

The Bonacci Flying Service, Omaha, was granted authority to engage in intrastate air commerce in Nebraska for the year 1960.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

We live next to Nature in the Raw. It is a gorgeous life and many writers have made a small bundle by writing about it: "Back to the Woods." "Return to the Farm." Things like that.

I read all these things in a city apartment — steam-heated, screened, laundry-called-for-and-delivered. And I yearned for the simple existence.

Now I have it. Simple Simon.

☆ ☆ ☆

One thing we try to do is keep Nature from getting too raw. A bird is nesting in the house ivy.

We also have a couple of garden snakes in the Ivy. We suspect snakes may climb the vine and have a little bit of wren-on-toast. I have more emergency calls than a house doctor.

"Come quick! The snake is going up the ivy!"

Well, I go out and poke around the ivy with a stick (we have a long snake-poking stick).

I cannot find the snake and the small birds seem content in their nest.

However, this reminds everybody that a snake might come in the house. Ugh!

"Close the doors! Close the windows!"

"Snakes don't come in houses. Do you want us all to suffocate in here?"

It seems they do so come in houses. And everybody — everybody except me, that is — has heard some horrid stories. Snakes coming in and strangling babies. Snakes having a cup of coffee right in the kitchen.

☆ ☆ ☆

When I was reading all those books, I was informed how Nature kept a wonderful balance. (Nature, they said, was a kind of CPA.)

You ask me, I think Nature is unbalanced. I try to keep it balanced. But it is like when you try to carry a plate of sandwiches and your milk and the lemonade all to the table at the same time.

Only this morning I was summoned — the coffee was a little cold anyway since I had been snake-chasing. I was given the emergency siren:

"The dog and deer are fighting!"

Deer come down in the yard regularly. Not because I live in such a primitive area. No, it is because the county has declared a game preserve. They have written all sorts of rules to protect the deer.

The dog and deer were fighting all right. It is a dog who lives up the street. The deer was a young spike buck. Neither had read the rules.

As I remember in "Call of the Wild" or in "Tom Swift and His Electric Ice Breaker," there is a Law of Fang and Claw.

The dog was supposed to fang this deer in the throat. The deer was supposed to knife the dog with his sharp front feet.

Instead of this, the dog was biting the deer. And the deer could not give him the boots because the dog was biting him in the after decks. They both made a terrific amount of noise. But you could see they were not up on their literature.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now this is the time you should let Nature stay in balance — though I must say Nature was doing a pretty poor job.

This is the time (according to the books) where your French-Canadian guide turns to you and says:

"Yes, Monsieur, life is cruel in the North country. C'est la vie."

You then go on to mine gold, sobered and wiser.

But the kids were screaming. And neighbor ladies came out, flapping dish towels and getting generally hysterical.

So I pegged a few rocks at the dog. He let go the deer who went off in a huff. So back to the cold coffee.

Halo To Little Girls

London (AP) — Looking for the best behaved? Then look for a little girl, says social Scientist John Barron Mays of Liverpool University in an article in the magazine Family Doctor. "Girls are far less delinquent than boys," he says. "They are even more law-abiding than women, and women are infinitely more law-abiding than men." Little boys? Well . . .

1,400,000 Miles On Mail Route

Shelton — J. F. Halbieson, upon retiring as a rural mail carrier recently, figures he drove 1,400,000 miles during his 39 years on the job.

Starting out with a Model T, Halbieson used 21 new cars during his career. Prior to coming to Shelton in 1935, he carried the mail in the Litchfield area for 15 years.

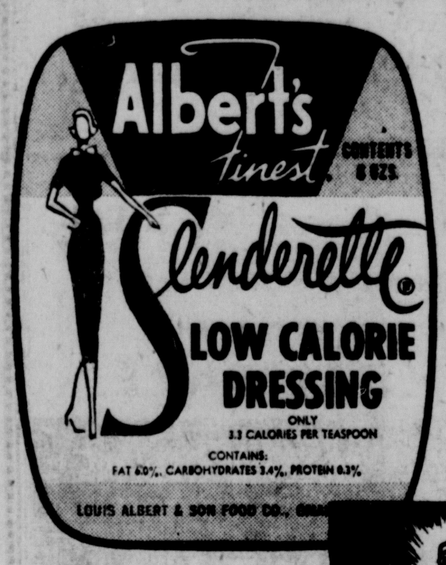

The biggest changes he has noted in that time are the improved roads, the steadily dwindling rural population and the steadily rising volume of mail carried.

The winter just passed has replaced the winter of '49 as the roughest in his experience,, he noted.

Stocks Slip In Mixed Market

New York (AP)—Cross currents ruled a mixed stock market Thursday as volume slipped to the week's smallest total. Market statistics were a bit on the upside.

A number of volatile or specially situated issues made some wide moves up or down but most key stocks showed slight change.

Late improvement in a few pivotal stocks gave the popular market averages a nudge to the upside.

Eleven of the 15 most active issues declined, with only two advances and two stocks unchanged.

Oils, airlines and rubbers were mostly lower while steels, motors, chemical and rails were mixed, although the latter had a small gain on average.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.23 to 640.62.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .50 to 222.10 with the industrials up .90, the rails up .20, and the utilities up .16 to another new high.

Of 1,223 issues traded, gainers narrowly outnumbered losers by 485 to 473. New highs for the year totaled 47 and new lows 30.

Volume was 2,940,000 shares compared with 3,160,000 Wednesday.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Volume was 1,190,000 shares compared with Wednesday's 1,160,000.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined. Bond volume declined to $4,980,000 par value on the big board from $5,030,000 Wednesday.

Recess Is Approved

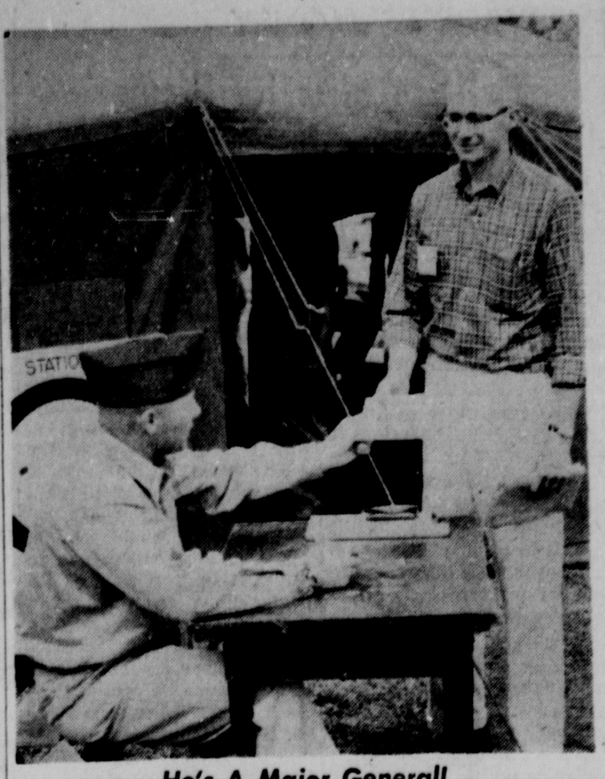

Washington (AP)—In the face of a House Republican revolt, the Senate voted 63-26 Thursday to adjourn Saturday and come back to work Aug. 8, after the national party conventions.

Nebraska's Republican Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska voted with the minority.

The House will vote, probably Saturday, and Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) predicted "we're going to recess" despite a decision by heavily outnumbered House Republicans to fight. There was some talk that the House might favor returning to work Aug. 15. Both House and Senate must approve any extended adjournment or recess.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas pressed for a Senate vote only a few hours after 125 House Republicans had thrown down the challenge at a caucus.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois joined Johnson in sponsoring the adjournment resolution.

He's A Major General!

"Take this and report inside the building, Cadet," says M/Sgt. Joseph G. Schneider, University of Minnesota, acting as processing NCO at the Fort Riley ROTC Summer Camp, unaware that he is addressing Major General (Honorary) Kenneth F. Tempero 2924 Jackson Drive, Lincoln.

Lincoln Cadet Tempero Now Major General (Honorary)

Although not connected with the pentagon, Major General (Honorary) Kenneth F. Tempero, 2924 Jackson Drive, carries as much respect with the University of Nebraska ROTC units as if he were.

Cadet Tempero attained his honorary rank when he was elected National President of the Pershing Rifles, oldest college fraternity, when the annual convention of the organization was held at Nebraska this April.

The Pershing Rifles was organized in 1892 at the University of Nebraska by General of the Armies John J. Pershing, while he was on duty at the University as a Second Lieutenant. The original name of the organization was Company A, Nebraska Rifles, later changed to honor its founder.

A graduate of University High, cadet Tempero, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tempero. He is a premedical student at the University, majoring in research chemistry. In addition he has been selected as secretary of Theta Xi; president of NU meds; treasurer of Nebraska University Council on World Affairs, is a member of Theta Nu (Pre-med honorary fraternity), student council, German club, interfraternity council and scholarship committee.

Upon completion of the summer camp and subsequent graduation from the University of Nebraska, tempero will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve.

Retiring State Engineers Take Assistant Posts

Acting State Engineer John Hossack announced Thursday that Edwin Olmstead of Lincoln, division engineer in Field Division II (east-central Nebraska) for more than 32 years, will retire from that post Friday and become a special assistant to the maintenance engineer.

Marvin Nuernberger of Norfolk, assistant division engineer in the Norfolk area who has been with the Department 18 years and 7 months, will take over Olmstead's post as engineer of Division II.

At the same time, Hossack announced that Frank Schnittker of Lincoln, assistant engineer in Division II for the past 4 years and a member of the Department for 39 years and 11 months, will become a special assistant to the design engineer.

The changes were announced as part of new policy adopted by the Department to provide orderly replacement of key personnel as they near retirement age.

"The fact that an engineer has reached retirement age is no indication that his services are no longer required," he said.

"Men who have held highly responsible positions for many, many years have the experience and judgment that inspire and encourage younger engineers," Hossack continued.

"They deserve to be relieved of some of the tremendous burdens of responsibilities that have accumulated through the years and to be allowed to make use of their special talents.

"The Department and the State are richer by reason of these engineers' decisions to remain with the Department," Hossack stated.

Other personnel changes are:

Wesley S. Hansing, project engineer at Norfolk, will become division construction engineer at Norfolk. He has been with the Department 26 years and 7 months.

Howard E. Rowlee, with the Department 40 years and 4 months, will go from maintenance superintendent at Columbus to division maintenance engineer at Lincoln.

Jack W. Reed who has been with the Department 10 years and 10 months, will go from project engineer on construction at McCook to division construction engineer at McCook.

Roland H. Heedum, engineering aide at Norfolk will become maintenance superintendent at Columbus replacing Rowlee.

April showed 1,692,052 barrels produced bringing in $97,369 in tax revenue.

Gage Valuations Show 2½% Hike

The largest increase was in business tax valuations which rose from $8,424,100 to $11,079,030, a jump of 31.55%.

Off-setting the substantial increase in business valuations was the decrease in individual personal property valuations which dropped 4.25% from $16,105,620 to $15,418,600.

77-23 Split 'Should Be Made At Project Agreement Stage'

Acting State Engineer John Hossack said Thursday the believes the best place to balance the 77% rural—23% urban level on Interstate Highway funds is at the project agreement stage.

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution asking President William Gold to inform Hossack that the Chamber urges that the 77-23 split be done at all levels — Stage 1, Stage 2 and project agreement.

Hossack said Thursday he has not yet heard from Gold, but explained the Department's determination on the matter.

Control Spending

"It's really spending you're trying to control," Hossack said, and explained that the project agreement stage is the one at which the contract for funds is signed with the federal government.

It would be "impossible" to maintain the 77-23 split at all 3 levels because the stages change too much, he said.

Stage 1 is where the state tells the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads it wants to build a road and the state can go ahead with planning.

At Stage 2 the state asks the Bureau to reserve some federal money out of its allocation for the project.

Balance Split

Hossack said he hopes to balance the 77-23 split within the year.

"We are operating as we agreed to operate, and if we find it brings about any unfairness we'll consider changes," said Hossack.

At the present time, he continued, "there is no need to make a change just to change."

The Chamber also wants the Department to supply it with detailed quarterly reports on Interstate progress and Hossack said the Department could do this.
